Kristin,
Mr. Petri's class was, well, interesting. Now (if I pass), I'll be in chemistry, so no more Biology! It sux that all we had together was biology, but maybe next year we'll have more. Have a cool summer and I'll c-ya next year.
Kayte Linderman

Kristin,
Babe! another year has gone by. Im so glad that you and I were lab partners and became better friends. This Summer is going to kick ass! we are sooo getting together. You're awesome, the chatterbox, the club and Bio are things most memorable this year & they all include YOU!
I'll see YOU! Page me some time - 939-2546
Love,
Holly

Kristin
I got a lot to Say, like the mall w/
the twins, The movies
w/ well you know who, the movies w/ James Bond, the movies on the end. Lunch & Global. The Special milkshakes and margaritas.
This summer is gonna rock b/c
We gonna get some good hookups.
Stop screwing Dave U Wanna
b/c you know you blow him All are runs on the canal & the more were gonna have I could go on forever but won't so This summer that's all
I can say

Hey Kristen whats up?
I'm happy we became friends this year in Spanish & Math. It was fun.
And I'm pissed we never saw each other at Hunt Hallow. Oh well hopefully I'll see you some this summer.
-Tim

Kristen,
I had a great year
with you in biology. Have a great summer.
Love,
Sara
Oliver

Steph

Hey Kristen!
This year has gone by so fast! I didn't see you much; that sucked! Hopefully we will have more classes together next year! We didn't ski a lot either! See ya! Oh well - we have to get this summer a lot better! Definately! English was fun - too bad Mrs. B is going to mendon next year! Darn! haha no. well, we have to hang out this summer so call me! Don't forget!!
Love ya,
Emily

Passage of Time

The theme of this yearbook is the Passage of Time. We will be the first students to enter the new millenium as new high school graduates. As we live in the present and dream of the future, it is only natural to look to the past for guidance. Our lives are like a passage traveled by a stranger, all our memories and experiences are left behind us and all our dreams are still to come. But as we look back, we remember everyone and everything that has helped us on our way, given us advise, or just lent a hand when we needed one. This yearbook celebrates those memories long past and yet to come.

The Passage of Time

"A wonderful stream is the River Time, as it runs through the realm of Tears, with a faultless rhythm, and a musical rhyme, and a broader sweep, and a surge sublime, as it blends with the Ocean of Years." – B.F. Taylor. The year 1999 has been one of the most memorable for all of us. Seniors will remember this as their last year in high school before moving on to grander dreams while the Freshmen will remember this as the beginning of a new stage of life. We will all remember entering the new millenium with our family and friends. Time is curious in this way for it continues to plod along, watching life fly by but never wavering in its consistency. It is up to us to remember the memories and to imagine dreams of things yet to come.

Sundial – n. an ancient instrument used to measure the time of day using the sun's shadow as an indicator.
The clock on the front of Sutherland High School – n. time piece almost as old as the sundial but not as effective, in fact, has read 10:15 for as long as can be remembered!

Standard classroom clock – n. ruler on high over all students and faculty. Some say that the school clocks have been known to actually move back in time, mocking those students eagerly waiting for that liberating sound of the bell.

Digital alarm clock – n. one of the many annoyances for the average student. Luckily, with the invention of plastic, these noisemakers have become more versatile and do not break when struck by an early riser.

The Swiss Cuckoo Clock – n. one of the most interesting timepieces ever invented. Yet, it causes one to wonder that with all the hype over the millenium, what will happen on New Year's Eve in the local cuckoo clock dealership?

The Infamous Millenium Clock – n. this ingenious piece of technology's sole purpose is to count down to the millenium, yet no one really knows what will happen when these things reach zero …

Homecoming 2000

Homecoming started off with a bang on the bass drum of the Sutherland High school band as they played "We Will Rock You" throughout the village. Each student showed off their spirit by marching with their class and float while jamming to Queen, including these Seniors who were flashing their bright smiles along with those blinding red T-shirts. After the parade, the boys' soccer team took on Greece Oddesey and triumphed with a 4-0 win. Our varsity football team battled into the late afternoon against long-time rival Fairport, only to be beaten in the final minutes. After the games were finished Sutherland students cleared out to rest and then returned later in the evening for a successful Homecoming dance.

The freshmen closed out the millenium by letting the knight drift off into the sky.

Super Knight saves the day with a giant fire extinguisher.

The Class of 2000 gets riled up for the end of the millenium celebrating with a march in the Homecoming Parade.

Courtney Wallace and Charlie Lewis, Homecoming King and Queen.

Kerry, Eryn, Liz, and Lauren are all dressed up for their final Homecoming dance.

Sara, Erica, and Andrea groovin' to the beat!

Aaahh, the big yellow bus, what can we say ... it's big and it's yellow!

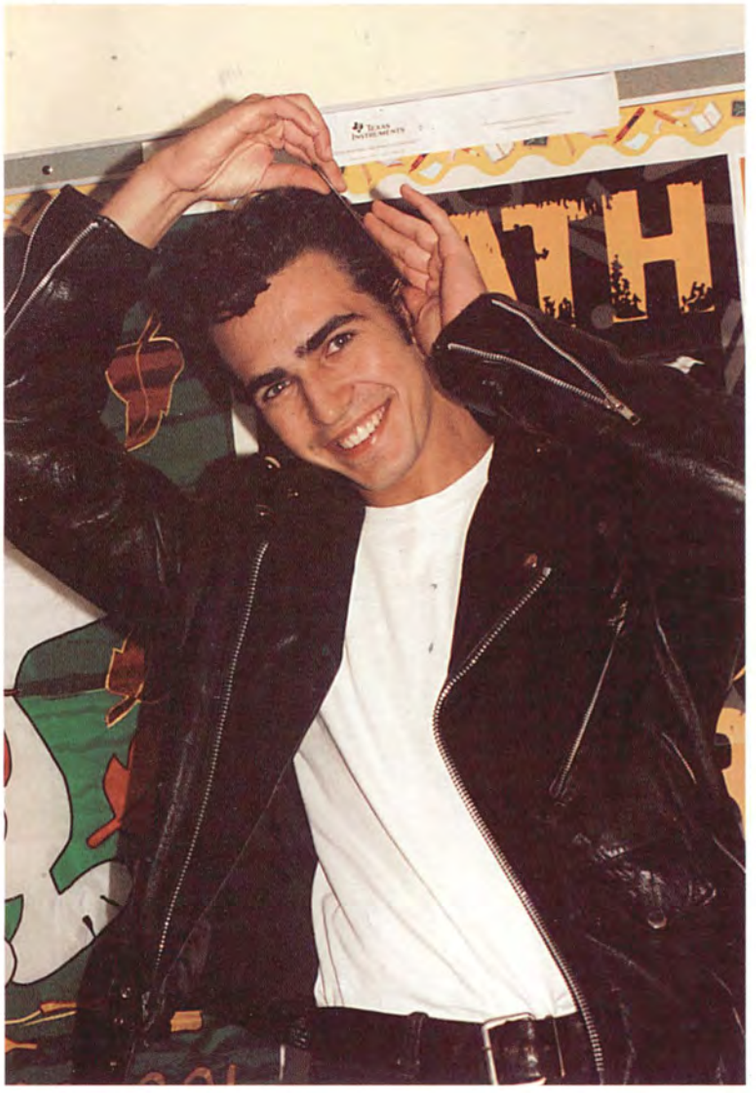
The Senior float: a space shuttle with all our childhood memories on board.

Spirit Week

The week before Homecoming was one of fun filled activities and craziness. Each day of the week offered a new theme and competition. Monday started off with random things, which included Water Day and Flip-Flop Day. Tuesday brought Movie Day in which the Seniors dressed up from Grease, Juniors as Wild-Wild West, Sophomores as Top Gun, and Freshmen as The Last of the Mohicans. Although there was nothing scheduled for Wednesday, the seniors tried to initiate a 70's day, which was a flop. Thursday resumed in school spirit fashion with Class T-shirt day and a Senior bonfire that night. Finally on Friday, the school was entertained by the junior and senior girls wearing their Powder Puff uniforms.

Ian Pilarski breaks out the leather/denim combination for Grease dress up day.

Tracy Crumb and Emily Jezsu show off their school spirit and 70's fashion sense during movie dress up day.



Stas "the Fonz" Bilyavskiy

Sarah Mizelle is determined to get that marshmallow nice and toasty.

The two Erica's share a common goal; roasting marshmallows over an open bonfire.

"Come on guys, if we smile big enough maybe we'll make it into the yearbook!"

Pink Lady Maggie McConville shows some tender love and care towards her fellow senior, Dave Heal.

Field Days

Field days 2000 was the scene of an unexpected upset by the Junior class. The afternoon was filled with fun and games, including a potato sack race, tug of war, and the ever-popular human wheelbarrow race. Students from every class joined in after school to participate in the festivities. Senior Maggie McConville equipped with her microphone and football was ready for action! She along with Brian and Jeff Skuse called the events play by play with great enthusiasm. Finally, the afternoon ended with the Juniors winning overall.

"Hey Jason, you're pulling the wrong way!"

Brian Skuse opens field days with a ceremonial "Let's get it on!"

Junior girls Lindsey Jackson, Emily Carpenter, and Kali Spoto help lead their class in a victory against the Seniors.

Inexperienced Underclassmen look around confused, wondering if they should start pulling yet.

Senior girls Megan McElhinney and Kerry Lefler enjoy the atmosphere of a competitive wheelbarrow race.

See Dave ...

See Dave hop in his potato sack ...

See Dave fall ...

Good rebound!

Powder Puff

The afternoon started with a concerned Mr. Sollenne announcing his disappointment in both Junior and Senior team names. However, after a general compromise the game was played as scheduled. Sadly, more action was seen off the field between the battling cheerleaders than between the Junior and Senior girls. The Junior cheerleaders entertained the crowds with their well practiced routine, while the Seniors had more fun messing up the Juniors. On the field, the Senior girls put up a valiant effort against their opponents but were defeated in the end 0-2. Both classes carried the true spirit of Homecoming onto the field making the game enjoyable for all.

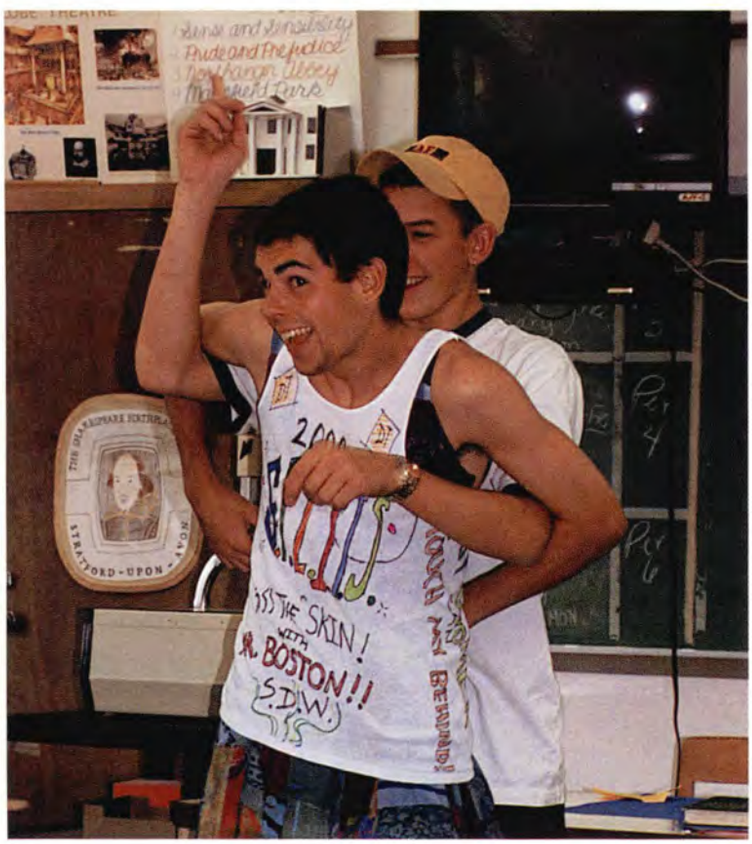
Powder Puff Senior Girls Team 2000



Senior girls Jenn Garbach, Eryn Lessard, D.J. Hagerman, Kerry Lefler, and Casey Connors march onto the field at the start of the game, ready to take on the Juniors.

Dan Burnes: high on life.

She's at the 10, the 5, she could, go, all, the, way!

Pete Francis leads a group of Juniors in a pro-Title IX rally with the megaphone.

A group of Juniors and Seniors try to answer the question, "How many high school students can you fit into a miniature clown car?"

Sarah Mizelle gets ready to throw a hit into Jessica Foster. She's not here to make friends!

Do You Remember...

These unforgettable toys helped define our childhood. They were the TV shows we watched, the action figures we played with, and the stuffed animals we loved.

Do you remember growing up with these toys?

Where do you study?

Sutherland provides many places for students to do their schoolwork. When asked where they study the most, students had some very interesting—and some rather unusual—responses. Nevertheless, while certain locations in the school may not have been originally intended for doing homework, they serve a good purpose for the scholars of Sutherland.

Student Life

What is the essence of student life?

"What is 'essence'? Isn't that shampoo?"
– Peter Volinsky

"Drowning in school work. Except for freshmen and senior year."
– Leo Stein

"Parties ... woooo!"
– Greg Stachura

"The essence of student life is ... very hectic. It's like swimming through quicksand – it's very hard to do. Student life is kind of like dirt. You can play in it, but you don't want to eat it."

– Chris Hingel

As you can see, the Latin Club this year is still in development.

Over 100 Math Club members meet each month to take a six-question math test made by the NYS Math League. Students get thirty minutes to take this challenging test. There are many different reasons why students take the test; some take it for the challenge, some take it in hope of qualifying for the travelling team, and some take it for those ever-tempting bonus points that the math teachers give. The TI-83 calculators, shown to the right, are very useful tools for students during this test.

The National Honor Society is a service organization in which members dedicate their time into helping the community. Activities include wrapping gifts during the holiday season, playing board games with the elderly, tutoring, serving food ... etc. The members have volunteered in diverse places and for various organizations, such as the Rochester Friendly Home and American Red Cross.

"Though we don't see ourselves as a 'club,' we have been provided with a few opportunities to contribute to the school. For example, many of us have been asked to tutor Underclassmen in Spanish. All in all, however, being a part of the Spanish Honor Society is, basically, 'un gran honor.'" – Anuja Vora

French Honor Society: Brad Pilcher, Shelly Guido, Lindsay Kurnath, Bibish Kazadi, Lauren Kunis, Karen Milch

"This society is a great achievement for our school. The prize (of admission) is given to students who are scholastically successful in French and other subjects. The French Honor Society is introduced to students in their eleventh and twelfth years of school. Also, the students involved in the Society help classmates who need tutoring in French." – Bibish Kazadi

Remember in the 80's When ...

It can be assumed that most of the students at Sutherland are 80's children; we grew up enjoying the toys, cartoons, and fashions that were popular in the 1980's. Now that we are entering a new millennium, it's about time that we reflect on our childhood. But, as high school students, is it possible to remember how we spent our childhood, and what we enjoyed in the 1980's? Here are some reminders:

Remember When ...

- You had "cool" snap bracelets and slap-on wrist bands.
- Girls were always reading Nancy Drew mysteries, The Baby-sitters Club books, and the Sweet Valley High books.
- Boys were always reading the Hardy Boys books.
- You wanted to be a "Goonie"
- You enjoyed watching "Saved by the Bell" and "Full House."
- "She-Ra," "Princess of Power," and "He-man" were popular cartoons.
- You spent hours building and rebuilding Lego cities.
- You carried your lunches in rectangular boxes with ET designs.
- "Barbies" and "My Little Ponies" were popular toys.
- Friendship bracelets and necklaces were sacred ties that could not be broken.
- You had a crush on a New Kids on the Block member.
- Gummy Bears were the most popular candies.
- Bicycles with big wheels and streamers were "cool."
- You remember the quote "wax on, wax off" from The Karate Kid.
- You often made T-Shirt rings to hook onto your shirts.
- Cabbage Patch Kids were the cutest dolls.
- You began your obsession with Star Wars.
- You watched many episodes of "Fraggle Rock" and "Muppet Babies"
- You wanted to be on Star Search
- You pictured robots ruling the world by the year 1999.

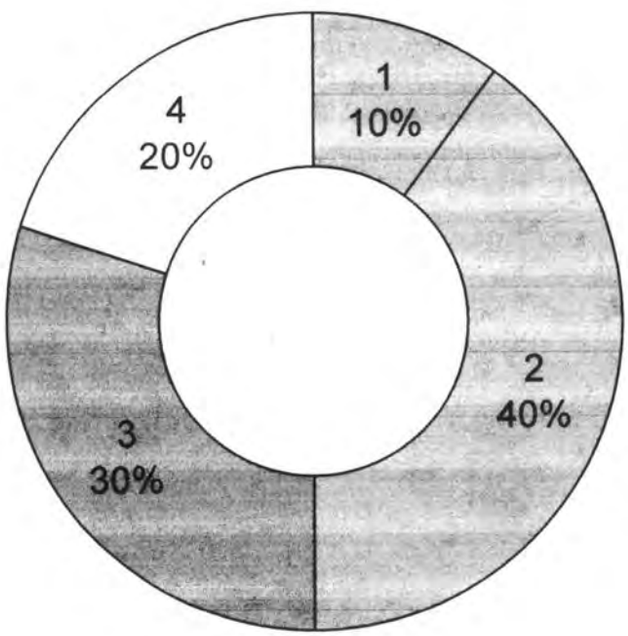
Responses to our question: What is Varsity Club?



The Very Detailed Results of our Interrogation:

1 = 10% = "Umm … I don't know … we've only had one meeting."

2 = 40% = "It's mostly a community service club made up of some of the Sutherland athletes."

3 = 30% = "We help out the community, like with the activity nights at the middle school."

4 = 20% = "We do a lot of yard work during the fall and spring clean-ups."

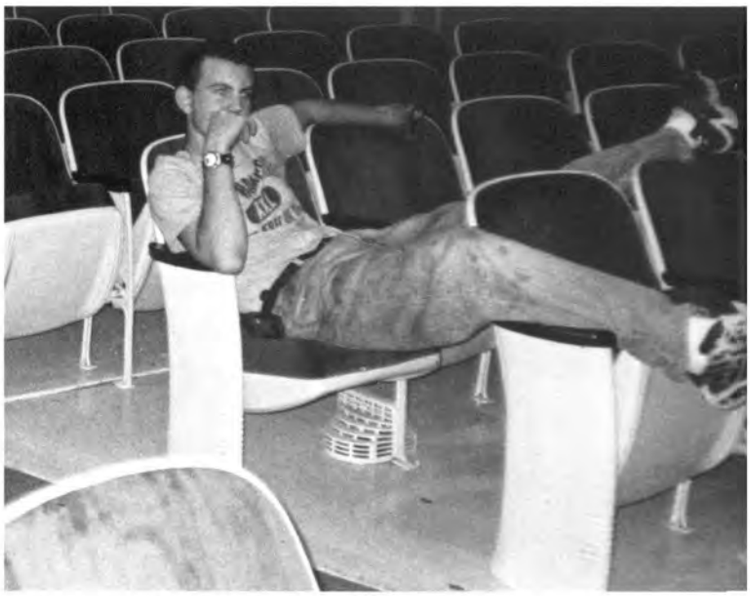
Sutherland Fashions

Throughout Sutherland, we have all seen the various styles worn by students, ranging from common casual wear to unique, personal clothing. Your local yearbook club took on the mission of scouting out some of the many fashionable kids and documenting its findings for your enjoyment. You will now embark on a journey through the Sutherland halls of style. Remember: keep your hands and eyes on the yearbook at all times …



Here we have Zak Stahlecker sporting the classic, back, jeans and t-shirt look.

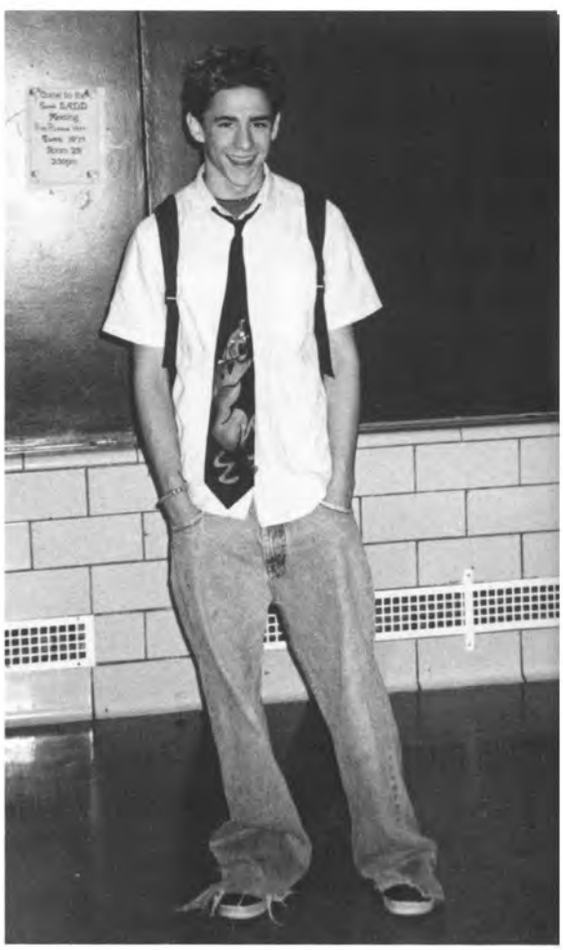
However, by night (or at least later in the afternoon) Galen trades his tie in for a more relaxed look, with his checkered sports coat.

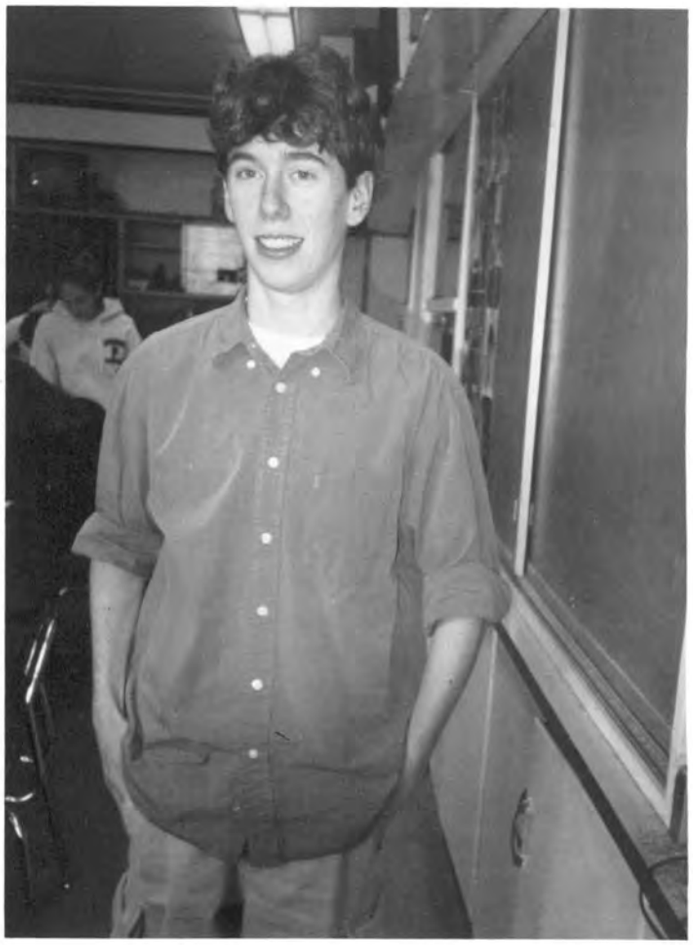


Jesse Dinton, at the left, makes a bold move by wearing a unique, beaded necklace to add a splash of color to his outfit.

Here we see Kimball Robeson, featuring one of the most commonly worn brands in Sutherland: Abercrombie & Fitch.

Jessica Stubbs, who also has a unique sense of style, often personalizes her clothing. Her jeans, seen in the picture to the left, have fire painted on to the bottom of each leg.

And, of course, there's Brad Henson, who often wears casual yet fashionable clothing.



More Fashions

While passing through the cafeteria, we managed to catch a glimpse of freshman Sonny Shariati, who also sports the casual look around Sutherland.

Courtney Renner, also a freshman, expresses her personality through her distinctive clothing. At the right, she is seen in her shiny, metallic blue shirt.

Celia Soehner, at the right, is expressing her fashion sense through her bold, snakeskin pants.

The casual and comfortable Grace Kumetat stands next to her friend, Maggie Leisure, who adds a very individual touch to her wardrobe.

Guess which bags belong to which people. (Hint: the people are on the previous page)

The Latin Competition

Every year, students at Sutherland who study Latin participate in a Latin competition, also known as "Certamen." This competition is similar to a "Jeopardy" game. This year, Sutherland students competed with other students at Mendon High School on a Saturday. Competition subjects included culture, people ... etc. Sutherland had three teams participating this year: the Level II, Level III and Level IV/V team. The Level II team consisted of Katie Runde, Lee-Kai Wang, and Anand Sharma. Kevin Monajati led the Level III team. The Level IV/V team included Shelley Guido, Emily Runde, and Annie Ding.

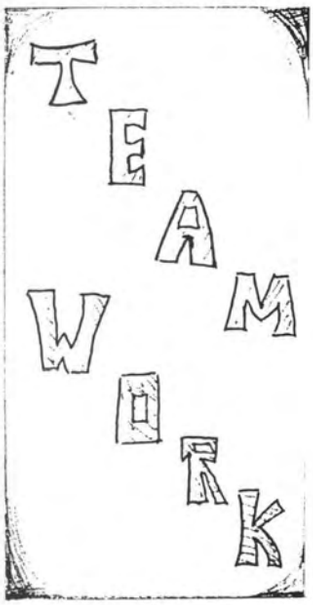
Here, Shelley Guido and Kevin Monajati peer through the classroom window. They are watching the Level II competition. Both contestants appear to be enjoying themselves.

(Amicitia) Friendship

Shelley Guido, Katie Runde, and Anand Sharma are conversing before some events. They have also dressed up for this competition.

Lee-Kai Wang and a friend are playing chess. Every year, the two friends meet at this competition, and spend time challenging each other at this board game.

Here, the Level II team is preparing to compete with another team. Katie, Anand, and Lee-Kai are all well prepared and ready. They also have buzzers, just like the "Jeopardy" game.



The members of the Level IV/V team get together to chat and prepare for the competition. Emily and Shelley have already "dressed up."

Lee-Kai and Kevin are conversing while waiting for the events to begin.

Here, Mrs. Argetsinger is helping Katie and Anand with their costume. Behind them, many students are gathering to prepare for the exciting competition.

Knightly Hobbies

By day, they are your typical high school students: going to their classes, talking in the halls, and doing common, everyday tasks. But once school lets out, these people let loose and pursue their own knightly hobbies. For some, hobbies include music, art, computers, sports, and dance. For others, meeting people in the hallways and talking to friends is more enjoyable. And, as a result of our carefully conducted study, we have even found that sleeping is an enjoyable and heavily pursued pastime, according to some members of the student body. The following pages are the result of this in-depth study of the interesting world of student hobbies.

At the right, Kelsie Kroll demonstrates her amazing balance and skill as a dancer, a role that she has worked at for many years.

At the left, Leila Tait shows one of the poses from her floor routine in gymnastics. She has won numerous competitions and is well recognized for her talent as a gymnast.

Melanie McNamara, at the right, is a goalie on the girls' ice hockey team. She also teaches children to play ice hockey at local ice rinks.

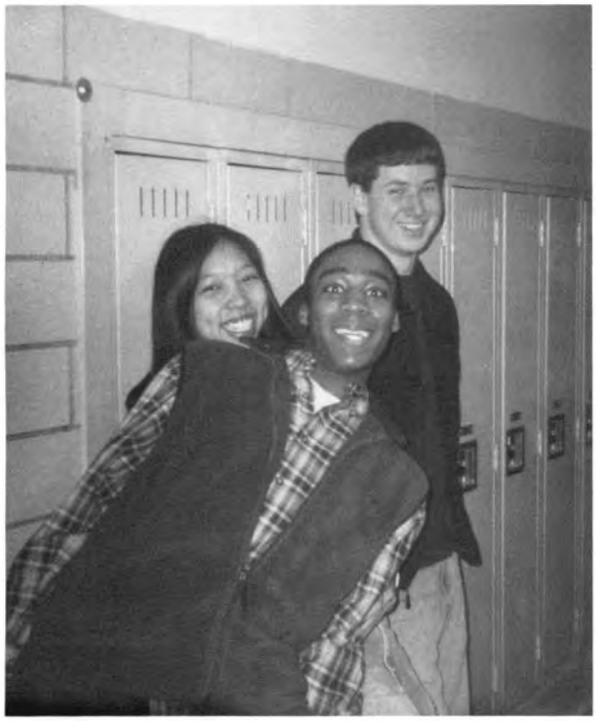
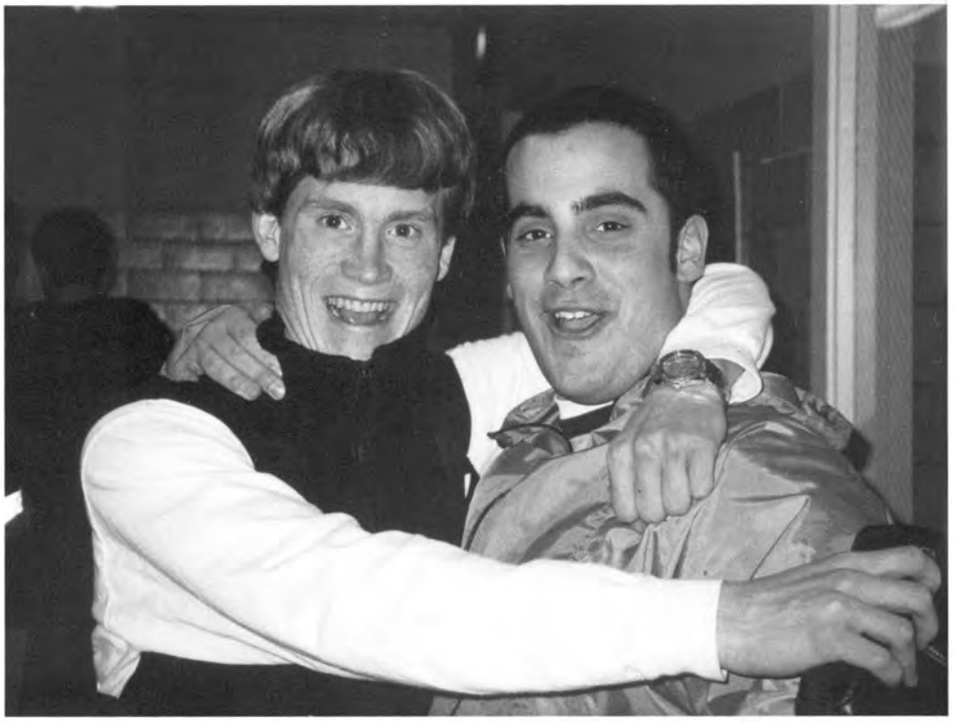
Sharon Paige (above right) plays the clarinet and the saxophone. She has held and continues to hold esteemed positions in the student bands.

Emily Bach and Kate Possee (left) do rough sketches and plan out their art projects for their Painting and Drawing I class.

Sophomores Michael Petrashka, Ian Kleckner, and Nicholas Monu (below) are very interested in computers and explore what the library has to offer.



At the end of the day, Ming-Fai Fong, Kevin Green, and EJ Bond, like many Sutherland students, let loose and relieve the stress caused by their demanding schedules.



Jon Davis and Matt Barish (warmly) greet each other in the hallway. A lot of Sutherland students consider meeting with their friends one of their most significant hobbies.

Lindsey Greene, amid an oh-so-familiar pile of papers, prepares to go home for the days. Though her locker is much more organized than most, we all know what it feels like to try to keep everything together ... whether we succeed or not is another story ...

Priya Chandra pulls out of her locker the English book that many juniors refer to as "The Purple People Eater" ... obviously for good reason. Of course, the ever-present camera of a Yearbook club member looms in the background.

Here, we have Will Irwin entertaining a young audience at a child's birthday party. Will has been practicing magic for many years and has amazed many people with his special talents.

Kimball Robeson has won many awards at horse shows nationwide. Here, she is seen at one of her competitions, riding her prize-winning horse, Jamaica Bay.

During free periods, upperclassmen such as Adrienne Calcagno, Rebekah Rampey, and Sarah Newman, will often spend their free time relaxing in the cafeteria. Who wants to study when there's time to talk, right?

Here, Dan Byrnes and John Brown are hanging out in front of their lockers as they prepare to leave school. Being old enough to have a car brings many joys, such as leaving school early and going off campus for lunch. Students enjoy these privileges immensely.

Most Embarrassing Moments from School

While playing tennis in gym, my friend was jumping over the net. I was like, "I can do that," so I went to jump over it. Right when I was about to land, my boot heel got stuck on the net, which caused me to fall down and hurt my arm. Needless to say, that experience taught me to always remember my sneakers for gym. Rate: 4

I was sitting at lunch with my friends and talking to one about something from work. As I was taking a sip of water, she made a joke that made me laugh really hard. I ended up laughing so hard that the water started coming out of my nose. It was really gross and I had to run to the bathroom to get a tissue. Rate: 3

I was in English class and we were reading a play. I hadn't had lunch that day so I was sitting in the back of the class eating a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. While I was enjoying my meal, I looked up and realized that my teacher was staring at me. He looked me in the eye and said, "Is that sandwich good?" I turned red and just replied, "Yep, it's delicious." And of course, everyone was laughing. Rate: 2

I had just gotten to school and was standing at the top of the stairs. I saw one of my friends down below and as I was walking down and waving to him, I tripped and fell completely down all the stairs. It wouldn't have been that bad if all the kids down by the cafeteria weren't all laughing at me. Rate: 1

One time in class, my friend and I were working together at another person's desk. I asked my friend if I could have a piece of paper. She said okay, so I started ripping a piece of the notebook that I thought was hers. My friend was staring at me and said, "Umm that's not mine," and I realized that the notebook belonged to the person whose desk it was. I tried to put the paper back into the notebook, but he looked over and told me I could keep it. I don't know why, but it was really embarrassing; probably because everybody was laughing at me. Rate: 3

At an activity night at the middle school, I was trying to impress the boy I liked. I was trying to act cool with my friends and I ran my fingers through my hair. They got stuck because there ended up being a huge wad of gum right in the center of my head. It was so gross, and the guy I liked laughed at me for the rest of the night as I tried to get it out. Rate: 2

In eighth grade, it was the last few days of school and my friend brought a video camera with her to record people. It was one of those cameras that you can rewind and watch what you taped on it. I was watching some of the clips from the day and I heard somebody yell, "What on earth are you filming?" I realized that while I was watching the video, I had been pointing the camera down at my friend inappropriately. Everyone thought I was taping her even though I was just watching clips. Rate: 5

I was hanging out with a bunch of my friends in the caf during a free period. I was trying to get them to come up to the food line with me because I didn't want to go by myself. I stood up to go and said to my friend, "Are you planning on coming up with me?" She looked at me with a huge smirk on her face and said as loudly as possible, "Are you planning on going up with your fly undone?" The entire table was looking at me and I looked down at my pants to see that they were unzipped and wide open. Rate: 4

I was on a school trip and I had to use the bathroom very badly. I was in one of the stalls minding my own business when one of the chaperones opened up the stall door. I didn't know that the lock was broke, and she didn't know that I was in there. It was pretty humiliating every time I saw her after the trip. Rate: 5

I was in the cafeteria and my friend was yelling because she had touched something underneath the table that felt really gross. She was being annoying and trying to get me to touch it too. I said no, and she still persisted. I ended up screaming really loudly, "NO I DON'T WANT TO TOUCH IT." Everyone just stared while my friend laughed hysterically. Rate: 2

On a scale of 1 to 5 ... 1 being not so embarrassing, and 5 being the most embarrassing.

Deep Thoughts & Personal Reflections

What's going on?

Some students at Sutherland walk around the school and wonder, "what's going on?" Many unusual things here at Sutherland lead them to question what the purpose of it all is. Several topics that students ask questions about are:

- The temperature of the chemistry lab. It's either very hot or very cold. Is there ever an in between?
- The second unused lunch line in the cafeteria. Why is it there, and why isn't it used?
- The sensored toilets. As some students walk down the halls, they may hear toilets flushing although they are not even in use. What's going on with that?

Would you rather ... ?

Eat a live goldfish, or eat a dead gopher?

Have bad luck for seven years, or have bad hair for seven years?

Have one haircut for your entire life, or have green hair for your entire life?

Be living in the 1970s, or be living in the 1980s?

Be on a bus filled with 40-year-old Star Trek fanatics, or be in a car full of hyperactive monkeys?

Be a superhero with the power to make people sneeze, or a superhero with the power to vacuum large objects through your nose?

Be unable to tell the truth, or be unable to tell a lie?

Have the power to know your future, but have no ability to change it, or have the power to know everyone else's future but your own?

Have milk erupt from your nose every fifteen minutes, or have the sound of fingernails on a chalkboard playing endlessly in your ears?

Be trapped in the woods living off of tree bark and wild berries or be stranded on a desert island with Gilligan and the Skipper?

Personality Test: This personality test was a series of totally unrelated questions that was given to students to determine the links between their likes and dislikes.

Do you like tuna fish?
67% yes, 24% no, 9% didn't know

Are you anti-potatoes?
77% yes, 23% no

Do you live to eat or eat to live?
49% live to eat, 51% eat to live

Do you watch Star Trek?
12% yes, 88% no

Do you know who David Boreanaz is?
35% yes, 65% no

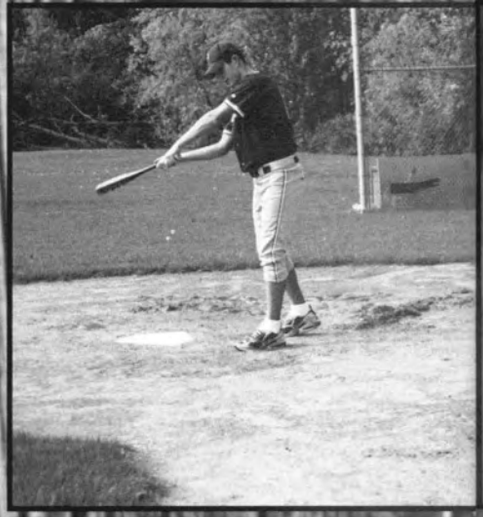
Do you eat spam?
22% yes, 60% no, 18% weren't sure

If you were a tree, what kind of tree would you be?
55% said "pine," 23% said "willow," 15% said "palm," 7% said "a big one"

If you were on a pirate ship, would you be:
a) the captain
b) the first mate
c) the buccaneer
66% said "a," 30% said "b," 4% said "c"

It was determined that:
75% of the people who lived to eat, also liked spam.
50% of the people who didn't know who David Boreanaz was, were Trekkies.
13% of the people who said they'd be "the captain," also answered the tree question with, "a big one"

Sports

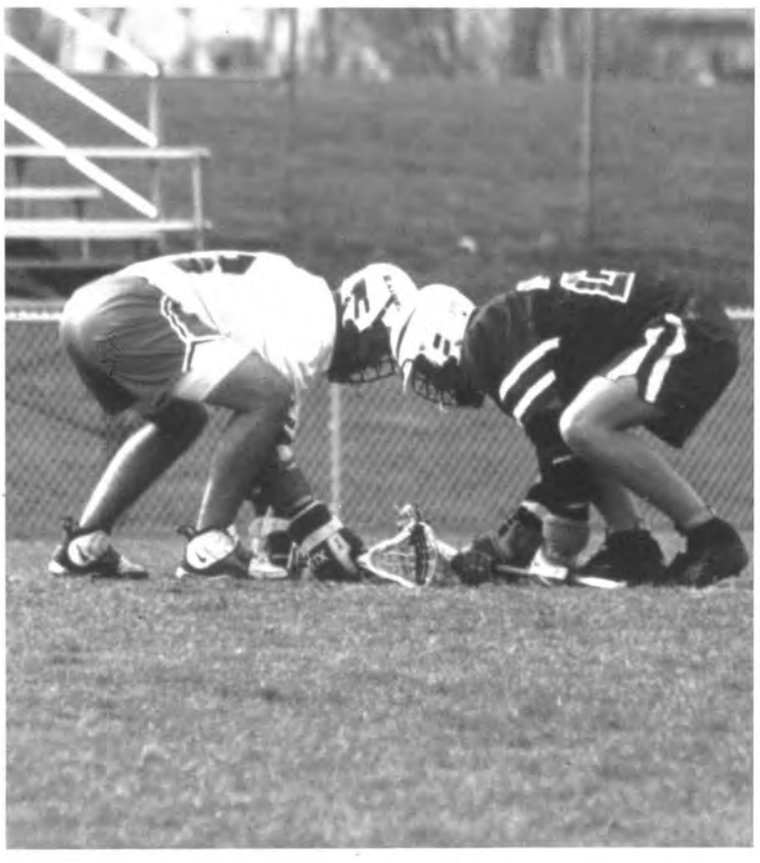


Sutherland Sports: skilled, outstanding and dedicated student athletes who show sportsmanship wherever they go.

Boys Lacrosse

A well deserved Pittsford team celebrates their league title after a hard fought game versus Irondequoit.

The thrill of victory is evident in this picture of the lacrosse team. Think of the pain the guy on the bottom of the pile must be in.



Senior, Jason Hall keeps a Brighton player in check. Jason has been a great part of the defensive line the past few years.

Senior, Sean Falon takes his position to win the face off. Falon greatly helped the team and he will be missed next year.

Girls Lacrosse

Graduate Amanda Vorndran fights to get open as Mendon teammate blasts through the defense.

Junior Jessica Foster shoots and scores. GGGGOOOOAAAALLLL!!!!

Senior DJ Hagerman carries the ball down the field on a break away. DJ was a great influence to her teammates and will be greatly missed.

Boys Soccer

Senior Jimmy Wood takes his defender to school and prepares to head down field.

Junior Billy Ringwood makes his move that will leave any player eating his dust.

Senior Ian Pilarski uses his head in more than one way to further his teams success.

Senior Goalkeeper, Chris Vavrina picks off an attackers shot

Girls Soccer

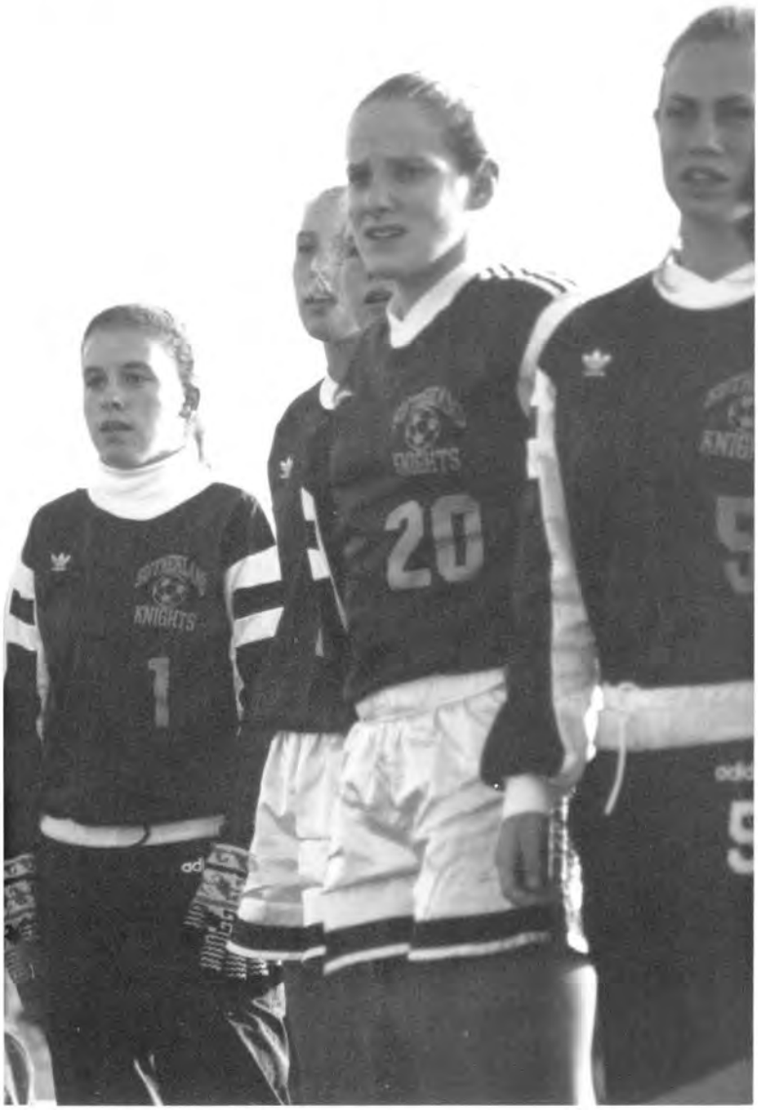
Senior, Lisa Gallea starts off her throw in. Lisa has contributed a lot to the team for the past few years and will be missed.

Senior, Meghan McElhinney passes off to Sophomore Amy Maffucci for the give and go.

Coach Doug Kircher gives his team advice during a short timeout.

Senior Goalie, DJ Hagerman puts her all behind her punt during the Mendon game. DJ has been the star goalie for Sutherland the past three years.

Junior Jessica Foster and Senior Emily Whitbeck hold off a Victor forward.



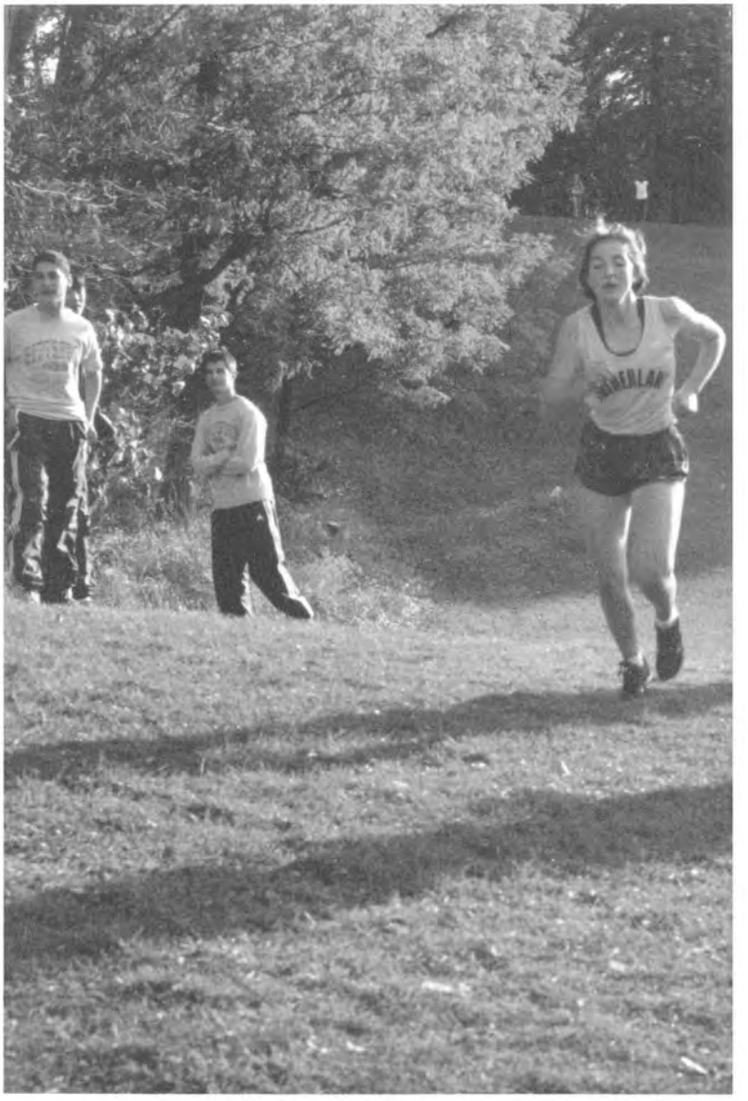
The resting players stand to support their team members on the field.

Senior Liz Phelps races up field to get the ball out of within scoring range.

Cross Country

Senior Nigel Gorbold sprints ahead, capping off a great season for Sutherland's Cross Country team.

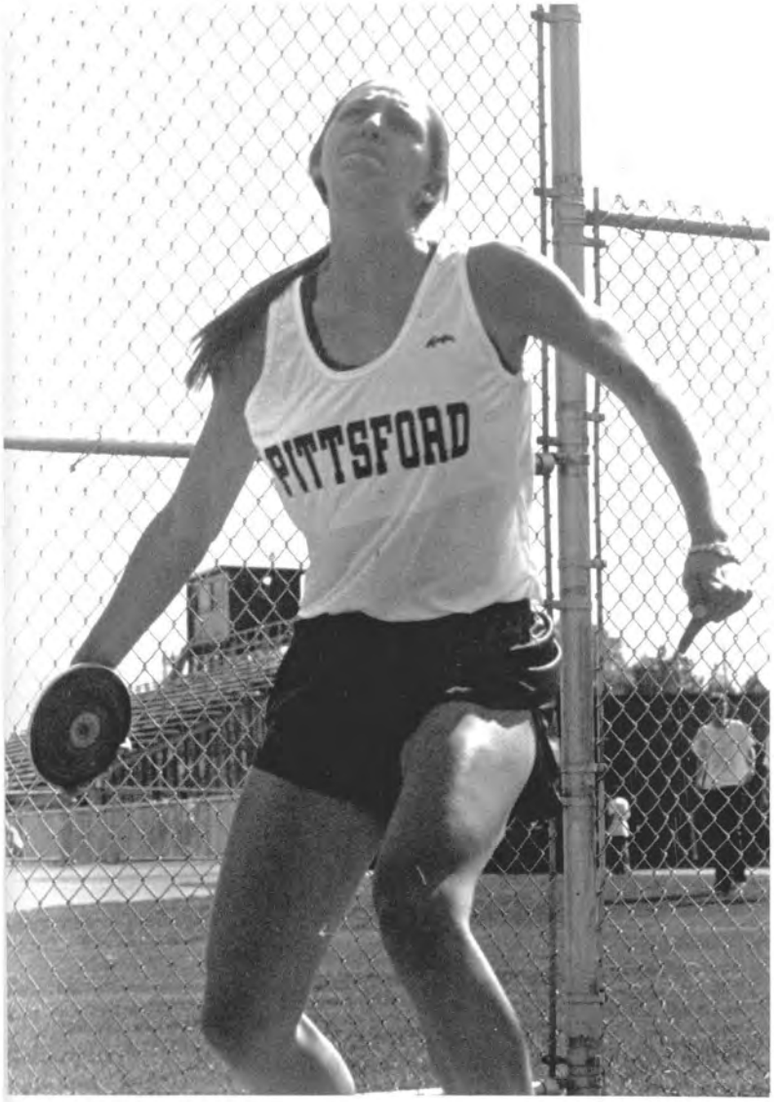
Senior, Liz Canfield, charges up the hill at a great rate and seems to beat her challengers, who are now barely visible.



The Sutherland girls celebrate a hard-fought race and demonstrate the meaning of team togetherness.

Senior Keith Olsen gives the "thumbs up" as he runs by with ease, obviously confident in his incredible running abilities.

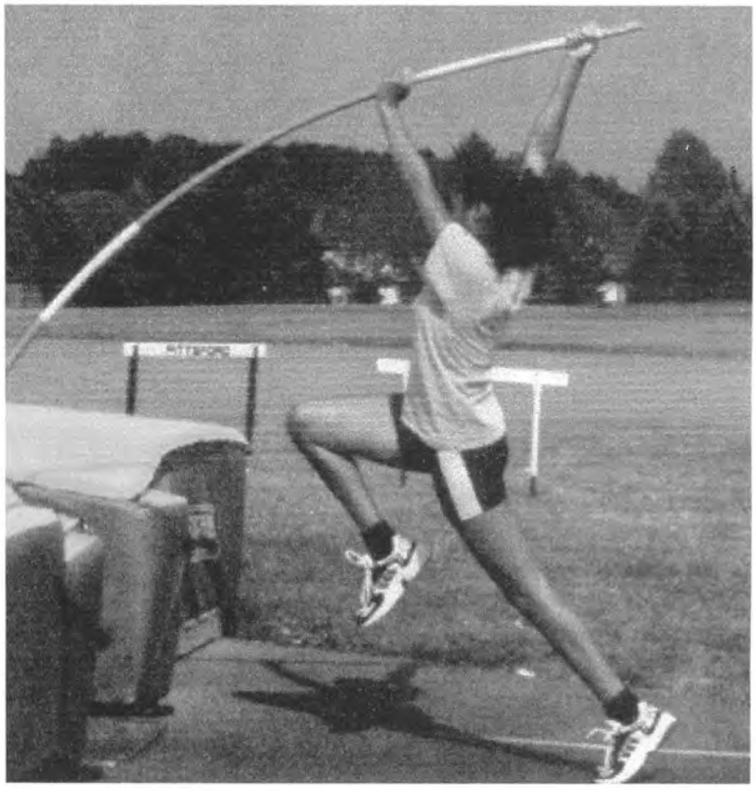
Track and Field



Graduate, Liz Myers puts her all into hurling the disc during a track and field meet at Mendon High School.

Junior Jaclyn Schifino practices diligently on her perfecting her pole volting technic.

Senior, Lindsey Green displays excellent form during pole volting practice. Lindsey displayed a lot of talent last season and is sure to help the Panthers this year.



Jaclyn Schifino soars over the bar with ease. She had quite an impressive season and put on quite a show in pole volting during track and field competitions.

Softball

Coach Doug Kircher counsels Alyson Stachura on third base, on when to make her move.

Junior Emily Carpenter throws her incredible fastball, giving her another strike on the batter.

This may not look like much but is the making of a very impressive double play.

Sutherland's Varsity Baseball team leaving the field after one of the most exciting games of the season.

Baseball

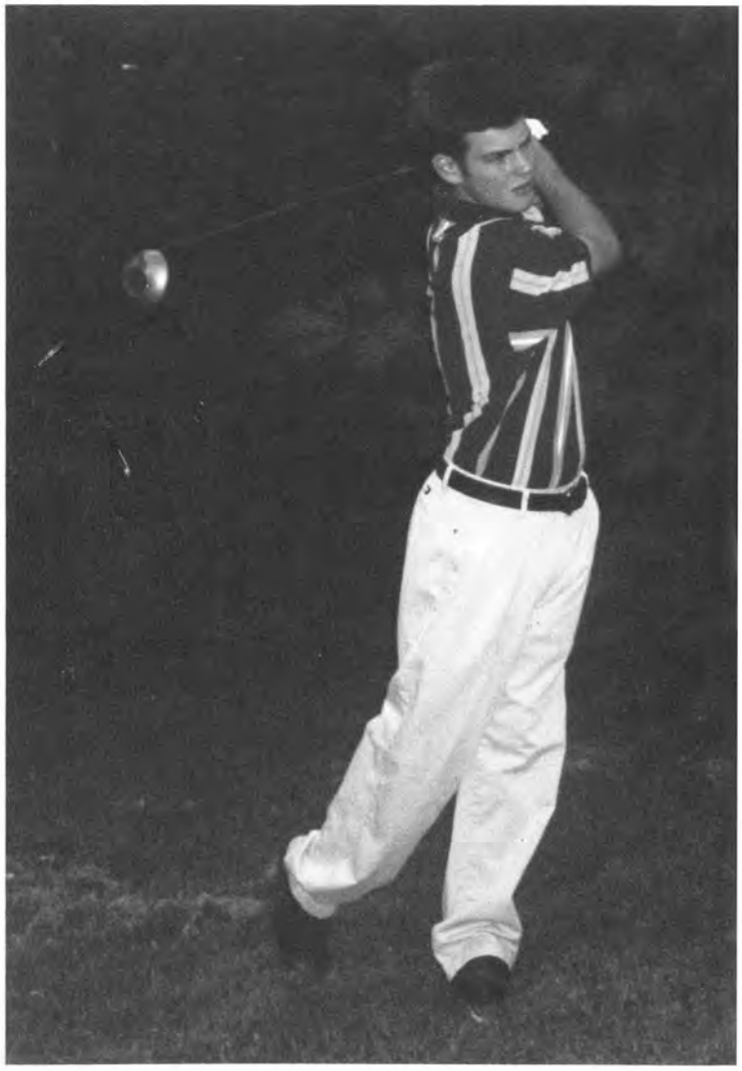
Senior, Sammy Kahn strikes out another batter with his patented curve ball.

Senior, Justin Sansone makes another spectacular play at second base.

Graduate, Scott Hildebrandt tracks down a pop fly behind home plate.

Golf

Senior John Klienman takes a massive swing and puts his ball directly on the green. Klienman played exceptionally this year and one can only wish he will come back next year also.



Senior Dave Masters demonstrates his superb golf swing. Dave was a great all around player and will be missed by all team members.

Cheerleading

Junior Jennifer Reitz and Senior Amy Selke look on as their Knights go for the hole.

Cheering in front of a big crowd at the Olympia game was just a breeze compared to the competitions our cheerleaders would later enter and end up winning some of them.

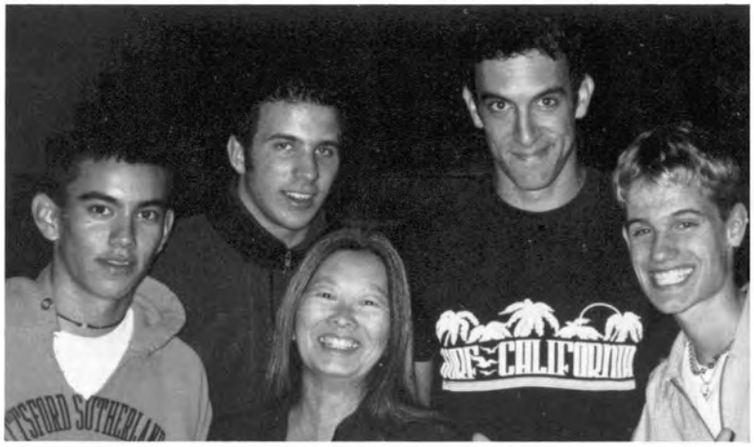
Seniors Tasia Danger and Jaclyn Biondi signify that Sutherland basketball is definitely number 1.

Gymnastics

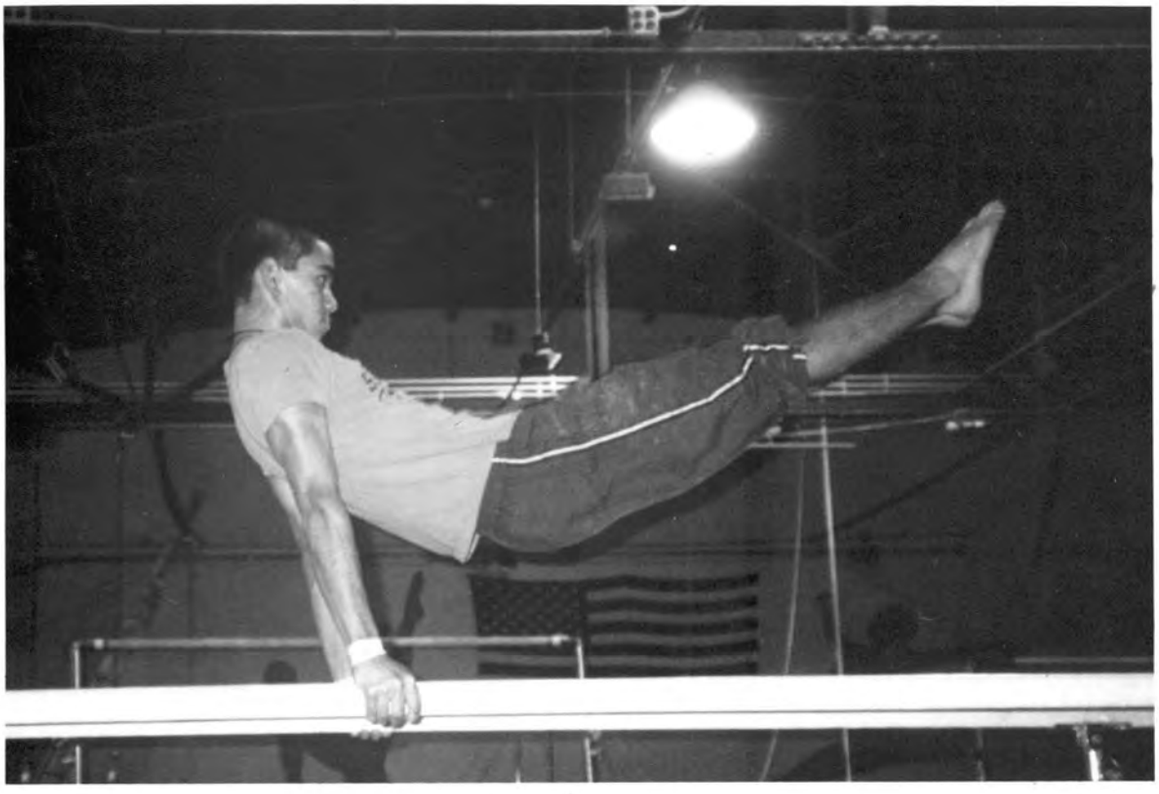
Senior Ben Summit, the only male gymnast from Sutherland practices on the parallel bars.

Lauren Kunis during the floor routine shows both grace and style.

The team huddles up while Penfield begins practicing on the pommel horse.



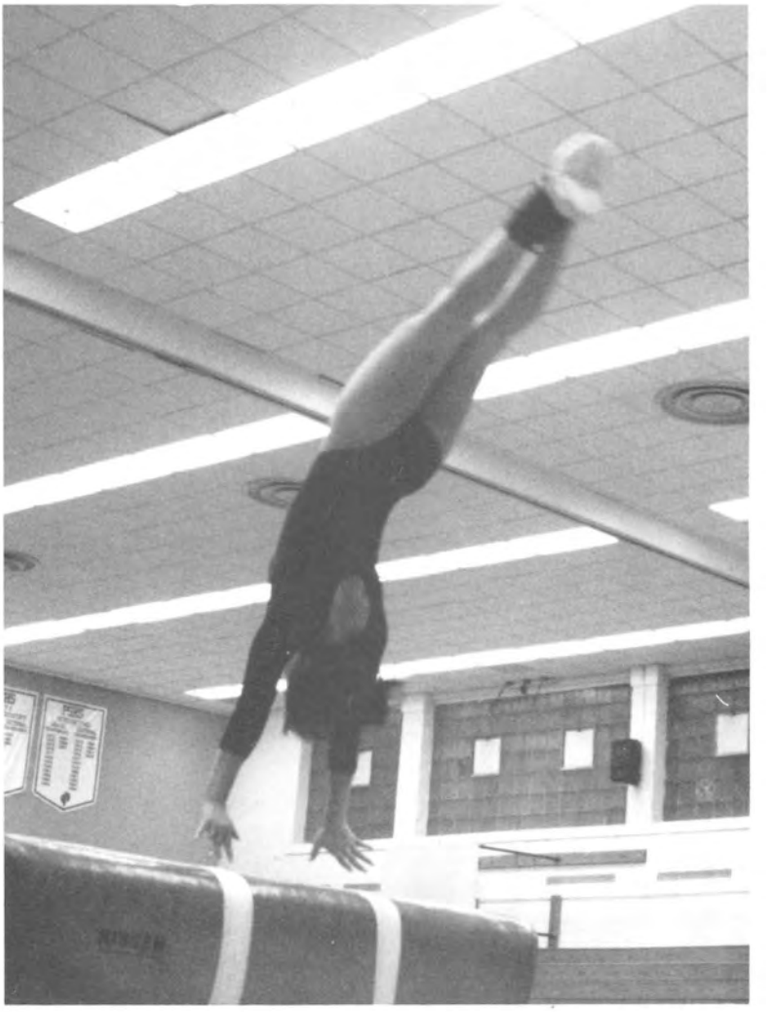
Ben poses next to family and friends after a tough competition.



Three members of Pittsford's gymnasts combined with Rush Henrietta stand in uniform together.

Girls Gymnastics

Leila keeps her balance on the beam after doing two back flips.

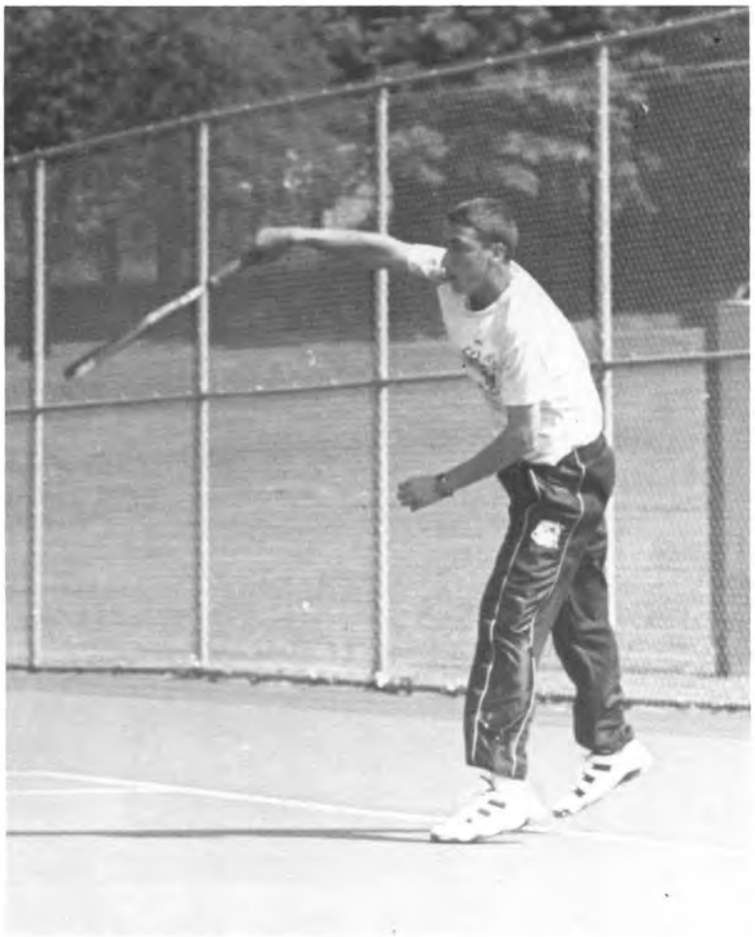


Lauren Kunis shows impressive form as she flips over the pommel horse.

Kunis concentrates during her performance on the beam.

Bethany poses for our camera after a great performance.

Boys Tennis



"Tennis takes hand eye, balance, power, stamina, and more skill than many sports." – Dan Williford

Junior Phil Valenti eyes the ball carefully before striking.

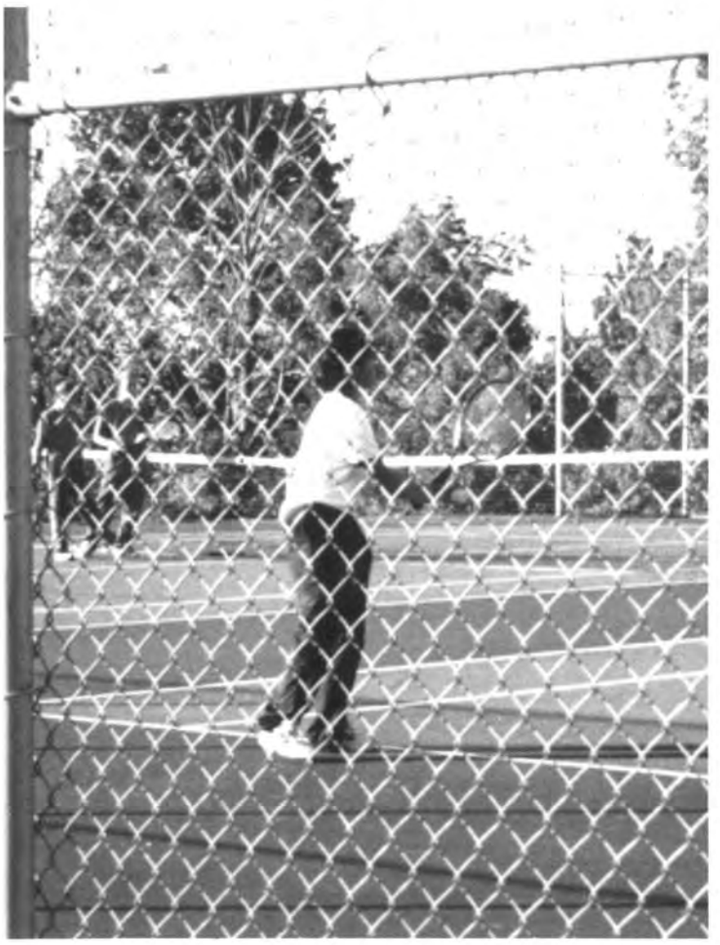
"I only wish more students would show respect by watching our matches because our team rocks and after all, we are going to 10-peat for the sectional title!" – Dan Williford

Girls tennis player Cindy Lo gets more advice from her coach in between games.

Girls Tennis

Cindy Lo and Tiffany Chen converse after a hard fought match.

Mona Popli goofing around with fellow tennis players. Mona was a great addition to the team and will be missed next year.



Katie Linehan goes to return the ball after a fellow teammate serves it during practice.

Ice Hockey

Junior Andy Fiske stares down his opponent trying to intimidate him, but it doesn't matter because Andy will win the face off.

Junior Brian Bartlett stands ready and waiting when the puck drops.

Seniors Chris Farnsworth and Fred Cristman get ready for the opening face off.

Fiske lines up with Adam Laemermmann to the side of him.

Junior hockey sensation, Kevin Watters, skates into position to help create a fast break.

Field Hockey

Senior Brighid O'Keane waits for the ball so that she can make her move towards the goal.

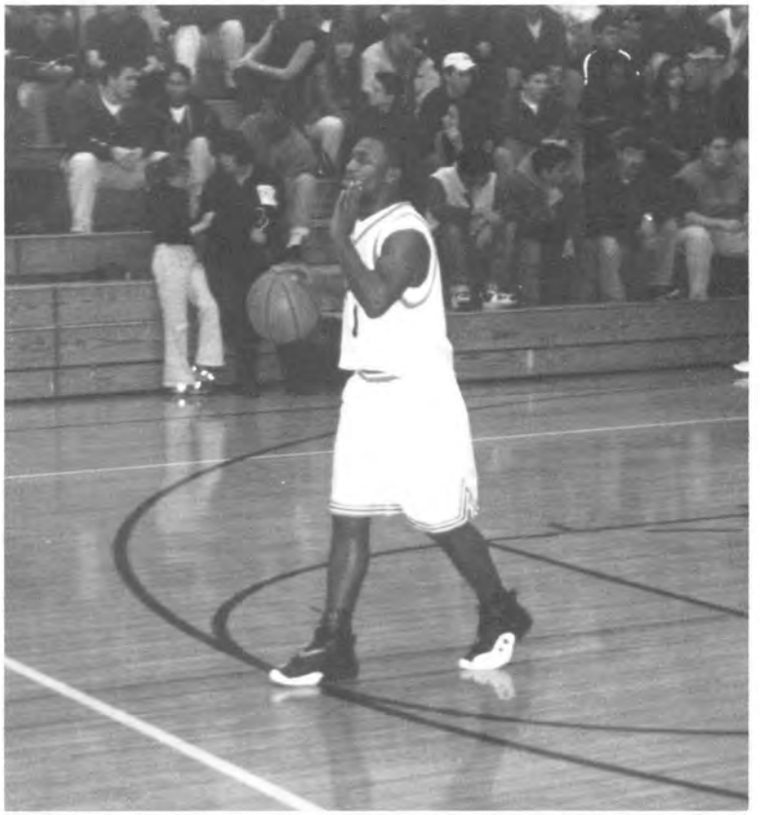
Bauer and Archer keep their eyes on the action as they position themselves to make a play.

Senior Eryn Lessard awaits her next chance to make a brilliant save for her team.

Senior Erica Bauer starts her decent downfield in hopes of another good pass.

Seniors, Erica Archer, Tessa Wright, Erica Bauer, Bridghid O'Keane and Eryn Lessard pose after receiving flowers for their last home game.

Boys Basketball



Junior Jazzmen Williams calls a play with a hand motion while moving the ball down the court.

Chris Vavrina takes the fade away while Jazzmen looks for the rebound during warm ups.

Alpine Skiing

Freshman Ben Fund competes in the giant slalom at Bristol.

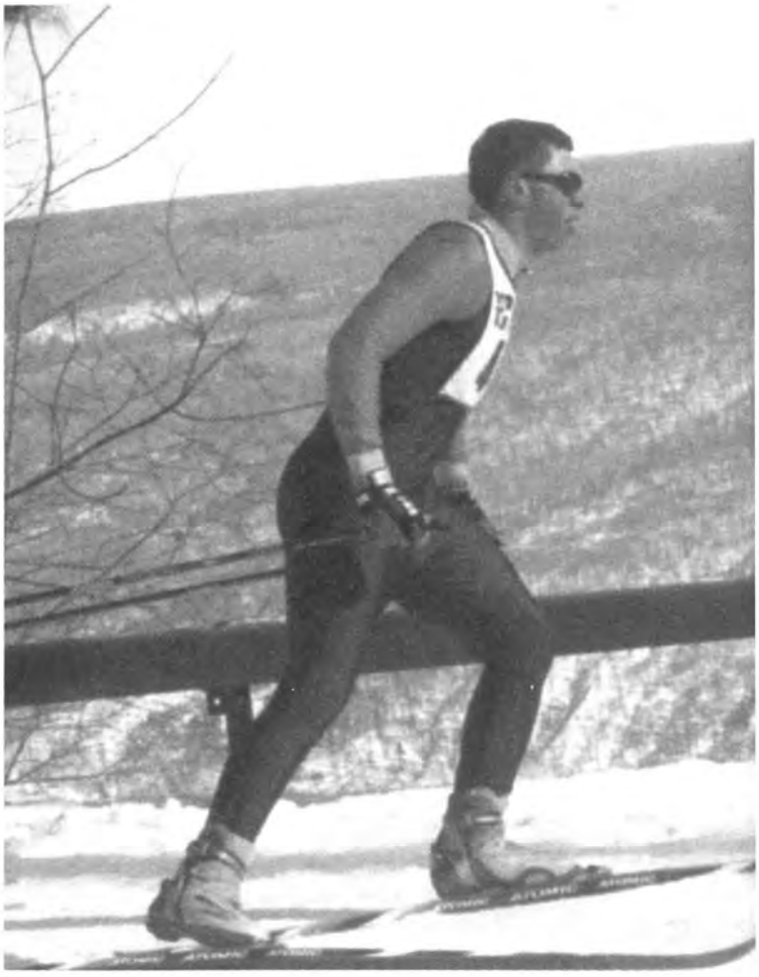
Junior Pat Massie will continue to be a fierce competitor in the giant slalom next winter.

Senior Jackie Adriano displays poise and skill as she passes the gate.

Junior E.J. Bond navigates the slalom course in recent alpine action.

Boys Nordic Skiing

Steve, Brian, Peter, Dave, Ed and Jeff pose with Pittsford teammate before a big race this winter at Lake Placid.



Dave Kline skis along the overlook at Harriet Hollister during recent cross-country action.

Nigel Gorbold eyes the finish line as he skis to victory

Football

Billy Connell makes another amazing tackle, capping off an incredible year.

Giant Senior Sean Falon and Junior JJ Brown crush their opponent, stopping him dead in his tracks.

Junior JJ Brown makes the tackle. He was not only a great tackler but he had a successful season returning punts.

Play heats up as Pittsford's offense drives up the field during the homecoming game verses Fairport.

Senior Billy Connell gets ready to make another great run.

Title Holders

While we couldn't put all of ou sectional and state title holder onto this page, everyone should be thankful that we have a vas amount of winning teams. It i not whether you win or lose, it i how you play the game, but mos know that it feels good to win. S to all those with winning seasons Congratulations, and to everyon else, keep going, and good luc in the future seasons.

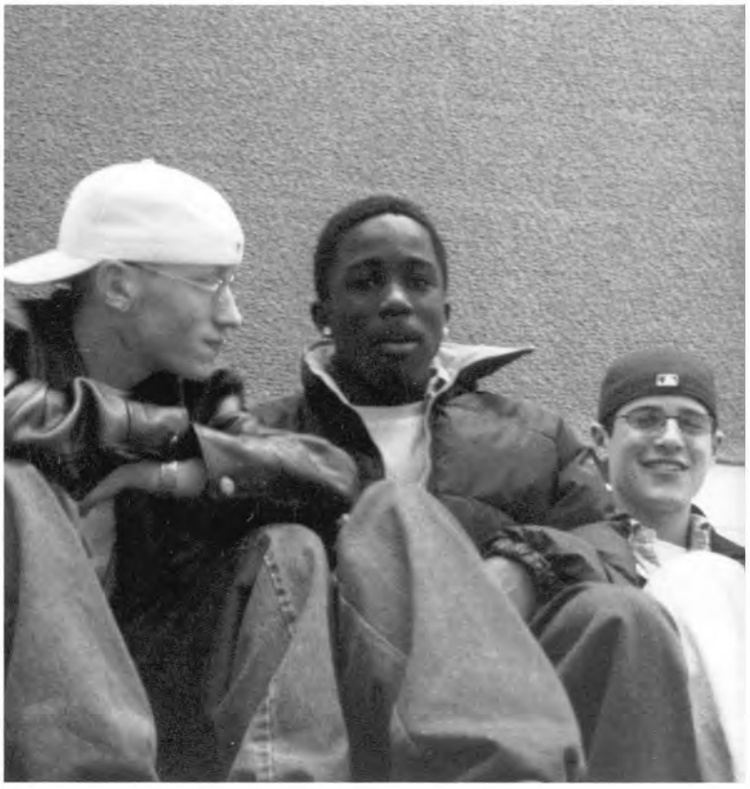
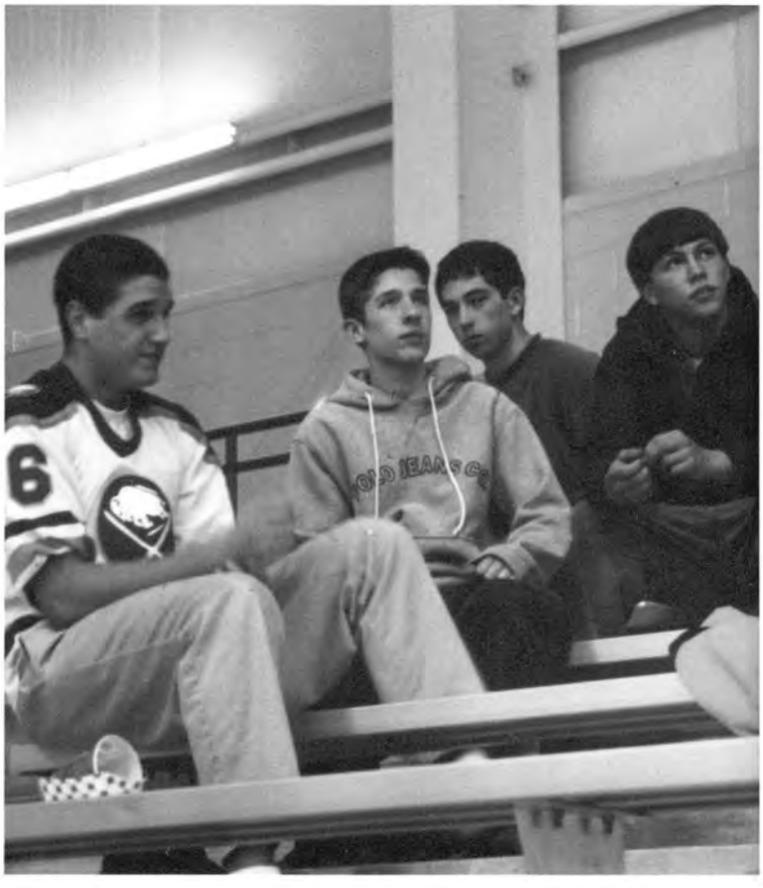
Our Fans

Jon Feins, a well spirited Sutherland Basketball fan, announces all of our home games.



Jack, JJ and Jason are just some of the fans that come out to watch our incredible girls gymnastics team.

Phil Valenti and Chris Vavrina come to watch the girls volleyball team after their basketball practice.



Greg, Seth, Billy and Jon focus deeply on the hard hitting taking place in the hockey game.

The fans and support from parents are the lifeline of Pittsford's sports programs and athletics teams. The encouragement that is brought forth through the fans towards the athletes can bring any team to victory. We at Sutherland are lucky to have such fans like the Super fans for basketball and the former Bleecher Creatures for hockey. On behalf of all athletes whether club or varsity, Thank you to all of those students and parents who come to cheer on their classmates or sons and daughters whenever possible.

Boys Swimming

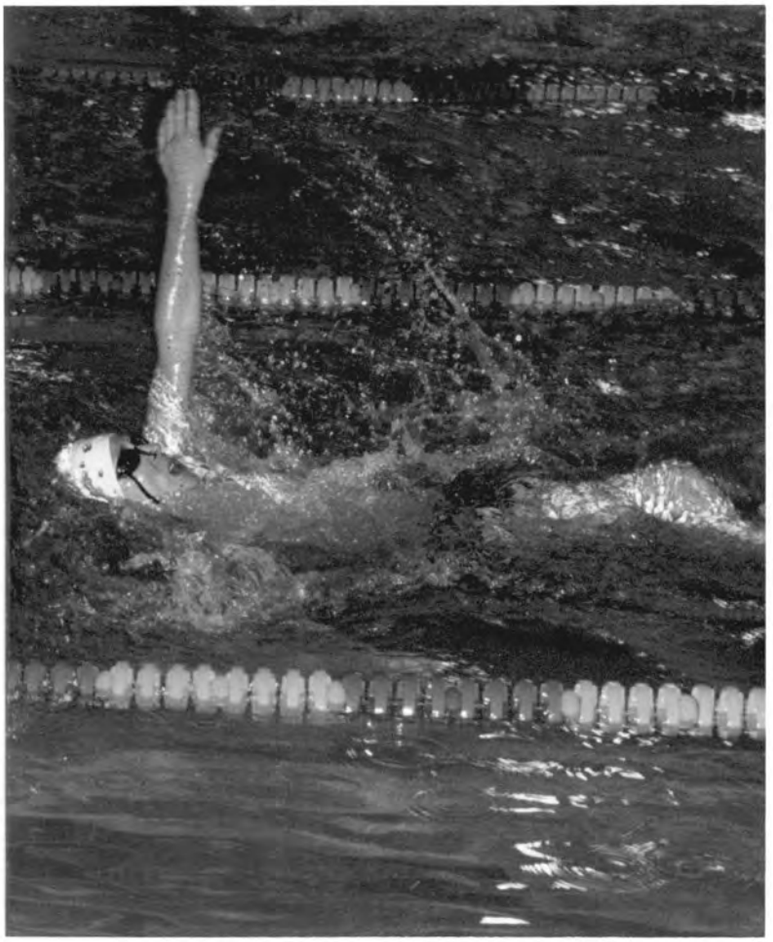
Senior Charlie Lewis with other team members stands soaking in his warm ups after their Sectional victory.



Crew

Boys State Champion Men's 4!!!

Captain Greg Stachura – Rowing is the most painful sport on earth, it demands mental as well as the typical physical toughness needed for most sports. Through it all I have been taught life's most important lessons, one of which is to live off the pain thrown your way, it will only make you stronger.

The girls team takes a stroll down the canal during the fall.

The state championship 4, Greg Stachura, Eric Feins, Robbie Goldstein, Mike Friedberg and Sherry Coronas.

During a cold day on the canal the boys slowly roll the boat into the water.

Captain Chris Ray – Crew is the kind of sport that brings the athletes closer together. Everyone depends on one another because a boat can only perform at its strongest if everyone's pulling.

Senior, Anish Prasad is in midstroke during practice. Anish was one of the four crew members to place 1st in the Cayuga Challenge Men's 4 this past Fall.

Junior Brian Sweet helps carry the bow of the William Weigle Schmitt from Pittsford Crew's first dock sight in Schoen Place.

Captain Sasha Milner – Crew is a challenging sport, which involves teamwork, and it forces everyone to push their limits. The biggest accomplishment is when you cross the finish line, and you know everyone was trying their hardest.

Captain Sara Miller – Crew is amazing! It forces everyone to work together and creates ultimate team unity, plus in what other sport can you see the people you are beating.

Top, The girls team poses for a picture and when they do something, they go all out.

The entire Pittsford Crew is quite large, it may have depleted some, but the intensity is still there with the people who are still heavily involved.

Friends, Lindsey Clause and Maggie McConville, bond during at the State Championship Races.

Eric Feins, Greg Stachura and Coxswain Sherry Coronas, show off all their new hardware after a single days work at States.

Underclassmen

"Being an underclassman has taught me humility."

"When I bite into a York Peppermint Patty, I feel the tingling sensation of being an underclassman."

Freshmen

Our class began the year on a very positive note as we entered Sutherland on the threshold of a new century. On the first day of school, we put our apprehensions aside and our perseverance immediately took control. As homecoming rolled around, we all bonded during the float-building process and our minds were relieved of academic stress. Float building was definitely a fulfilling experience for us when we shocked the overconfident upperclassmen by winning second place in the float's appearance and creativity. It wouldn't have been possible without the devotion and guidance of Mrs. Drake and Miss Allen. We thank them for all their support and encouragement. As freshmen, we still have a lot to learn, but with our determination and potential, many successes and accomplishments are surely on our way. As we approach this new century with anticipation, we hold our heads up high. For the next four years we'll show leadership and be the best we can be.
Congratulations to the class of 2000 and best of luck in pursuing your dreams.

Matt Wukovitz contemplates that funny-looking mechanism on his locker door. Its purpose, however, is beyond his comprehension.

Matt begins to realize that not even brute strength will work on his unrelenting locker. Try the lock, maybe?

Matt realizes this is a hopeless cause.

Finally ...

Freshmen notoriously have trouble finding their way around the first week or so of school. Ben Levin consults a roadmap to aid in this dilemma, though such drastic measures are hardly needed for freshmen to survive their first year of high school. Mostly, all it takes is time before they realize that the ten-minute bell does not mean class is over, or how to work the stubborn high school lockers. By next year they will be laughing at the new freshmen who can't find their way around Sutherland.

Mistaking the ten-minute bell for the bell signaling the end of class, Andrea Dye is taken by surprise and rushes out of the cafeteria.

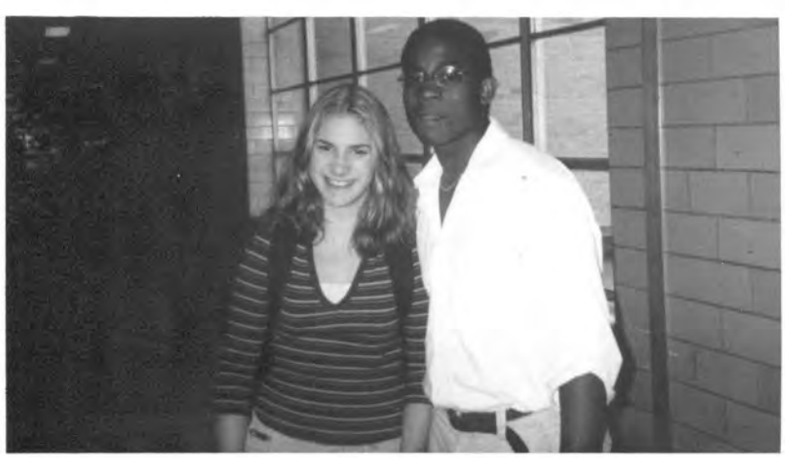
These two freshmen show the extremes of fashion. Monica Piraino is dressed Prep contrasted by the casual side of the Freshmen Class, shown by Dan Walters.



Many people choose to show off their individualism with their ... shall we say original ... outfits. Most freshmen go with the crowd and wear the normal Abercrombie & Fitch or American Eagle clothes, but there are always those who choose to show off their originality with maybe dying their hair strange colors or wearing different clothes from places like Aaron's Alley or Hot Topic to stand out from the crowd a little more. Some freshmen may "grow out of" their senses of fashion over their four years at Sutherland, but there will always be quite a diversity to be seen in frosh fashions when walking down the freshmen hall. Here we see Cathi Burns and Beth Jefferies showing off their unique styles.

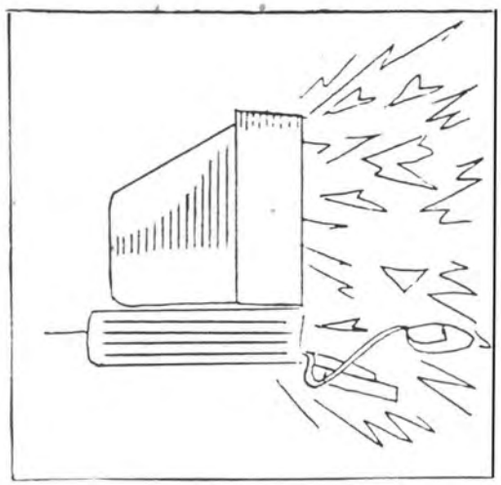
Y2K: The End of the World. What will happen when our clocks make the final tick and strike midnight? Thousands of theories exist; computers will burst into flames; electrical systems will fail; satellites will crash to the Earth. Skeptics dismiss these theories with a gesture and a phrase consisting of jargon. However, the only ones who know the truth are the conspiracy theorists. Y2K is just an evil scheme by our major computer hardware and software (and all those other wares) companies to convince the population that our computer systems will fail come the new millennium. The fact is, they have built these problems in to reap the benefits of mass pay-per-minute tech support. Here are just a few problems that Sutherland students think these companies have built into our computers. In the picture to the right, Justin Blum sits happily in front of a computer typing his English paper ... Little does he know, the year 2000 is fast approaching.

When asked about the year 2000 and the Y2K problem, this Freshman's first reaction was to run and hide under a table.

Freshman, Matt Wukovitz's first reaction was to hide behind a trashcan, when asked about Y2K.



The Interviews

"Y2K ... Who cares about it, I'm focused on ringing in the new year with style!" – Onyt Monu

"Y2K ... What's that? Yes to Kia?" – Andrea Dye

"I'm psyched for Y2K, even though I know nothing is going to happen, it's going to be fun ringing in the new year." – Amy Orlando

"I'm preparing for Y2K by having my computer updated and just in case I have a lot of canned food and water bottles in my basement." – Freshman Niki Mumpower

"Y2K is no big deal, the press has blown this little problem way out of proportion, nothing is going to happen." – Tammy Caswell

Looking Ahead ...

This year's freshmen have a lot to look forward to in their remaining three years at Sutherland. Some of the older freshmen will be receiving their permits and will be able to drive. In the picture to the right a freshmen girl admires one of the many cars in the Sutherland Parking lot. In the near future these Freshmen will be enjoying free periods, no swimming and the prom.

These two freshmen are looking outside at the window in their English class before it begins. They are admiring the cars on Sutherland St. and hope to soon park there too.

"I can't wait to be a sophomore! It's going to be a lot of fun and I hope that I will have more of my friends in my classes."

Dan Wahl and Denis Weisbrod are enjoying their free time before class starts, they wonder what having free periods will be like.

Here we observe two fellow Freshmen helping each other with their homework. As Sophomores, Freshmen will be more respected and called upon for help more often.

Freshman, Lacey Termini seen here standing on the bottom of her locker, hopes that as a Sophomore she will be taller and able to see into the top of her locker.

Working peacefully during a study hall, this freshmen takes time to pose for a picture. As a junior, she will not have to endure the long and boring study halls, but instead the fun of free periods.

Sophomores

To my fellow classmates, students, and friends ... Congratulations on a great year! Well, we have finally reached the halfway mark for our time at Sutherland High School, and we've done an excellent job getting to where we are now. Although at first it was a little strange not being the youngest students walking down the halls to class, we adjusted extremely quickly to being sophomores. Between homecoming, our sophomore reunion dance, the magazine drive, and jar wars, we truly had a fun and successful year! I would like to thank our sophomore class advisor, Ms. Vacarro, for all of her help with everything. I would also like to thank the entire class, especially my fellow class officers. Good luck in these upcoming years. I have faith that we will all continue to be a successful and spirited class.

These turtles are just one part of the animal collection at Sutherland.

The summer months bring us memories of no school, warm sunshine and most of all the bees. These bee hives (far right), in the biology room, keep us warm during the cold winter months.

Whether the animals of Sutherland are living, like the turtles and fish, or are just remains, like the bee hives and deer skulls there are a variety of animals at Sutherland. We have Mr. Petri's flute playing frog in the science office and all the animals in the biology room. We also have people, like Ben Golden, who can do cute monkey faces that make people laugh. Animals are also an important part of society. There are dogs help blind people navigate around a busy city.

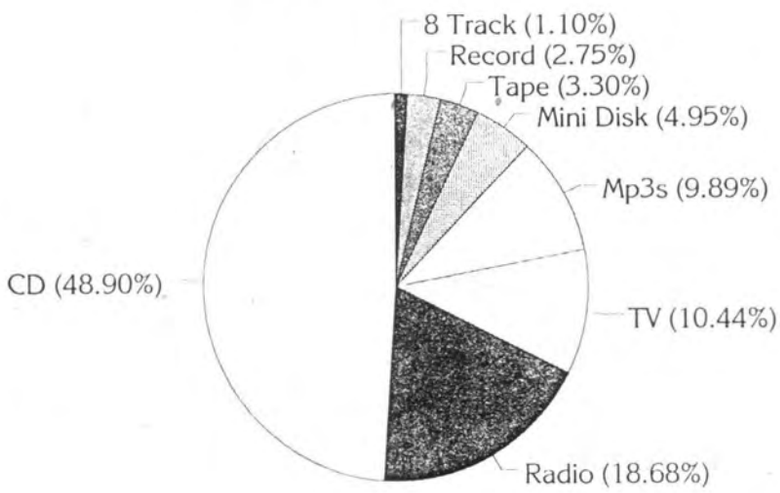
How Do You Listen to Music?

Out of 183 Students



To the right is a graph showing the different methods used by students to listen to music.

Sophomores and Their Music

The year 1999 has been a revolutionary year for music. We have seen many new artists come into the mix and many become more popular. 5th, 6th and 7th period Global Studies classes are often entertained by loud music accompanied by enhanced bass in the Senior and Junior cars leaving for lunch. Ashley Webber, pictured to the left, enjoys listening to music in her free time. She also plays flute in the concert band here at Sutherland. Music is as important to Ashley as it is to the rest of the Sophomore class. We hear music pretty much everywhere we go, whether we're watching TV or listening to a CD player in the library. There is no escaping music, it is everywhere.

Here Tiki the Test God sits enthroned on a stool next to Mr. Davidson's desk. Any sophomore will tell you that, according to Mr. Davidson, touching Tiki's hat brings good luck on tests. Yeah it's superstition but anyone will tell you it works!

These four desperate sophomores are offering Mr. Kantor bribes in the hopes that he will raise their art grades. Unfortunately for them, Mr. Kantor is above this kind of thing. Here he laughs at their futile efforts.

In school these days anyone will tell you students are under a lot of pressure to get A's. However, this can often prove to be a difficult task. As a result, students have come up with a number of innovative ways to get those A's. Superstitious students may depend on talismans, like Mr. Davidson's Tiki the Test God. Other students try in vain to bribe teachers or, when that fails, may even choose to beg teachers to raise their grades. Still others resort to extra credit. For instance, math students join Math Club because most of the math teachers add extra points to their averages. Students may also choose to get help from teachers in order to raise their grade. And, as a last resort, some even (dare I say it!) study!

Ed Jeffries looks beseechingly at a smirking Mr. Northrup as he begs him to raise his grade.

Sophomore Spirit

Spirit can be defined as animated or showing encouragement. Most of the sophomore class tends to show much spirit. People like Brianna Jordan, Amilina Alverez and Holly Gerlach are classic examples of these happy go-lucky, spirit-loving individuals. The sophomore class shows much spirit at basketball games and at the pep-rally they had more spirit than any other class.

Once again, our class dominated the field, although this year things were different. There's not much that I can say about the week of homecoming other than clean sweep. We won every event, the tug of war, powder puff (we all know who really won), and I must say to our male cheerleaders out there, you may not be able to build a pyramid, or do flips, but you can cheer with the best of them. Finally, winning the float competition was the icing on the cake. With our yellow school bus, we won in style. Our first prom will be remembered. I'm sure everyone had a blast this year and I bet next year's prom will be even better. I want to thank our class advisor Mrs. Molinich for her hard work and dedication, as well as the class government for making our Junior year the best it could have been. And thank you to the rest of our class, because without you, this year would not have been a success. There's three down, and one to go. Let's make it the best year yet, one that we'll always remember. So best of luck next year, our senior and final year at Sutherland High School! See ya next year!

Juniors at Their Jobs

Almost everywhere you go in Pittsford you are bound to see some of the Junior class hard at work. Whether you are going for a quick stop at Eckerd Pharmacies in Bushnell's Basin or looking for music at Music Oasis in Pittsford you will see some member of the Junior class. Wegmans is the most popular place for the students at Sutherland to work. However, while many of the Junior class works there, many of them chose to explore other places to work. To the right is Amanda Capuano; she happily works at Eckerd Pharmacies.

To the right is Steve Ray; he works at the Wegmans in Pittsford Plaza as a helping hand and a cashier.

To the far right is Katrina McKay; she also works at Wegmans, but she works at the one in Country Club Plaza. This Wegmans has less Pittsford visitors.

At the millennium, technology seems to be playing a greater role at school than it ever has. It's hard to imagine what life would be like without our trusty computers. We might not have to stay up until midnight writing long seminars or papers. Still, technology is very important, after all, what would people do during classes without calculators that conveniently have Tetris on them? Or, what would we do without email? Lastly, life wouldn't be right for Physics students without the acquaintance of his highness Fizcomp. As time passes, we certainly do become more attached to the technology surrounding us.

Although some might not agree, over the years the students at Sutherland have definitely evolved. As Freshmen most Juniors never could have imagined the changes that would occur. Not only have people gotten taller and lost the heavy bags, but more people are working harder than ever in hopes of getting into a good college. Many Juniors have moved on to advanced courses such as AP Chemistry, American, and Biology. As Juniors mature, friendships also get closer as another proof of evolution at Sutherland.

Missy Castle clearly exemplifies the fun-loving and relaxed spirit of the Junior class. Having spent freshman and sophomore year working hard, Juniors tend to lapse into early cases of senioritis.

While it is true that in many ways, high school students mature and evolve as they grow older, they also pick up a number of bad habits along the way. For this reason, you could say that we also devolve as we get older. Examples of this devolution are especially prevalent in the Junior class. Whether they have larger course loads than ever before or they just spend more time having fun, Juniors tend to have less free time on their hands. Therefore, many are forced to go without such trivial necessities as sleep and food. Perhaps to compensate for such things, Juniors tend to be more relaxed than the underclassmen and many even contract senioritis. Having already gone to Sutherland for three years, Juniors also tend to have a great familiarity with their fellow students, teachers, and even with the school building itself. Unfortunately, this familiarity is often coupled with a loss of reverence for any and all authority. On the whole, Juniors appear more immature than the underclassmen in many ways.

Dena Shaffer is in such a hurry that she must eat lunch while she studies. Her panic is shared by many Juniors who put off their work until the last minute.

Worn out after pulling an all-nighter, Emily Runde takes a quick nap between periods.

College-Hunting

Any Junior will tell you that one of the greatest traumas he or she faces is searching for the perfect college. The task is indeed daunting. Juniors must somehow choose a few colleges to look into out of hundreds across the country. This is no easy task and even once it has been accomplished Juniors must still make more decisions and do more research. As if their schoolwork was not heavy enough already. Juniors also spend a lot of time prepping for their college applications, whether by studying for the SATs or learning how to write the applications themselves. Carrie Stolt (at right) checks out the college posters festooned on the wall by the counseling office.

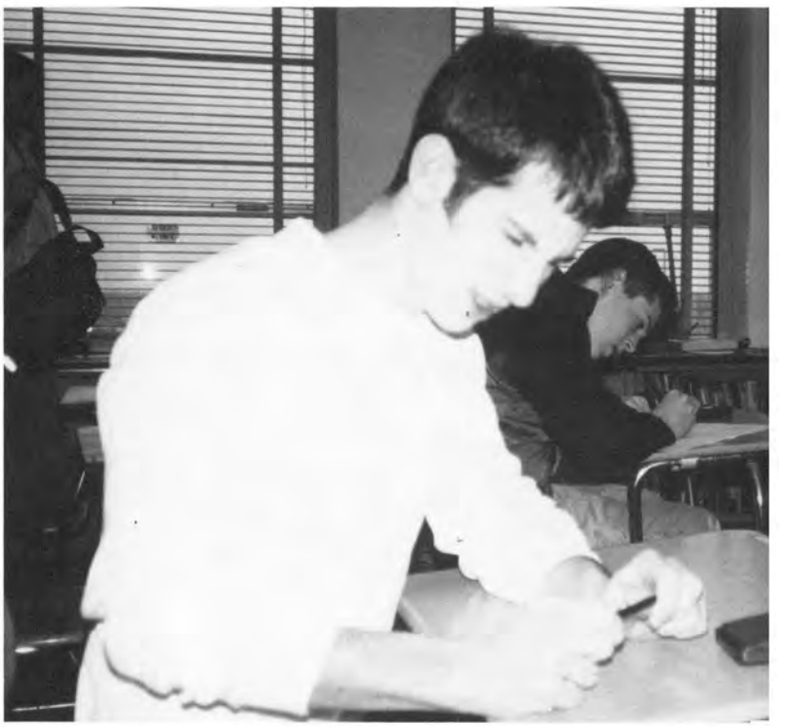
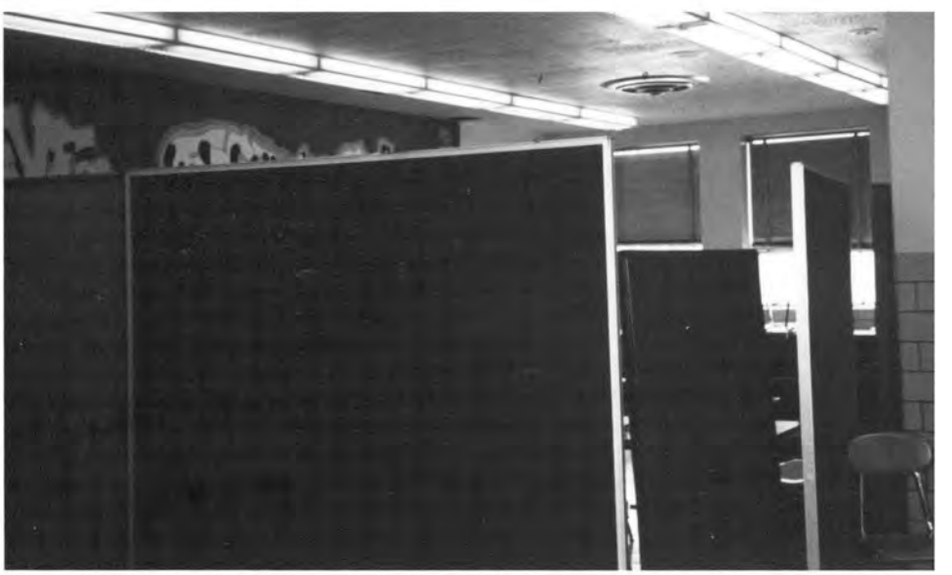
Looking Ahead

There are many things that this year's Junior class has to look forward to next year. As second semester seniors they will enjoy the privilege of the senior lounge with cable, private tables and couches. They will be able to sit in peace behind the tall walls of the senior lounge. They will also be able to take their limos to the after prom party and most importantly, in the parking lot. While senior year is mostly fun and games, there is also a lot of stress. At the right, Andrew Caselli is cracking under the pressure from thinking about colleges.



Yue-Young Hu and E.J. Bond are preparing for their senior year on the Sutherland ski team. They hope that they will be able to ski in college.

The parking spaces in the parking lot, center, are mainly saved for seniors and those juniors with internships.



The walls of the senior lounge, right, are tall and uninviting. Most Juniors wonder what's behind them and can't wait until senior year to finally absorb the luxury of the senior class.

David Hagelberg and Chris Ray, below, spend their free time eating before class starts. These guys are looking forward to the start of Senior year.

Amit Vora, left, is spending what little free time that he has during the day having fun with his friends.

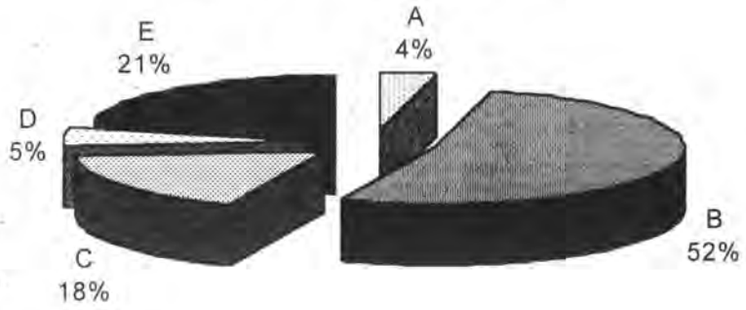
How Did You Spend New Year's Eve?



A. Dick Clark's Rockin' New Year's Eve wasn't as popular among the senior class this year.

D. Not many chose to stay home alone, but yet there were those few that weren't Y2K compliant.

My fellow students of the class of 2000 …

We have finally reached the end of the line. Senior year, as well as high school, has come to an end. Let me tell you, we have left a lot of memories behind, some of which I can't even begin to mention in this speech! I hope we can all look back and laugh, 'cause I sure can! Now as we head into the future, we will be taking very different paths; whichever path you choose, I wish you all the best. As for getting through the year, I know by now we have all caught a severe case of "senioritis," but hey, that's what senior year's all about! So whatever it is you choose to do with your life, just remember to live life to the fullest, have fun, and don't ever forget the good times! BFA forever!!

Thanx for the memories,
Best of luck in the years to come …
Your president,
Chris Hingel

Kaba-Kabi Kazadi

Bibish,

You were born a happy baby with a big smile on your face. Growing up, you have always known and still know how to acknowledge everyone and make them feel whole. You are a giving person with a big heart and an uncompromising sense of justice. You pursue your goals with passion and all along the way, you are willing to listen to advice. Pursue your dreams, my daughter, and may God Almighty walk along side you. Love, Mother

Life is constantly transforming around us. Friends come and go, scenery changes with the seasons, and our lives continually evolve, leaving only memories of the past. In this year's edition of Sutherland Street, we have tried to capture some of those memories so that they can never be lost. Looking back on these last few months, I remember the overwhelming deadlines, the constant inflow of frustration, and all the confusion and anxiety involved with creating this book. Yet, I will always remember the satisfaction of success and all the hard work that each section editor put into this publication. I am the first to admit that I had no idea what I was getting into as Editor-in-Chief. After seven long months, having watched the staff put in extra hours after meetings and sacrifice their free time to get those last minute photos developed, I still can not comprehend all the effort that was needed to produce a book that captured the memories of this year.

The production of this yearbook could not have been accomplished with out the committed help of several individuals. First, I would like to thank Mr. Eric Ludemann, our representative from Jostens. Thank you for helping us out on those difficult positions that always arose during deadlines. Next, I thank Mr. Rick Juszkieqicz of Duncan Studios for volunteering on numerous occasions to take our pictures. Also, this book would not have been possible without the continuous effort of the Yearbook Staff. I want to also thank Mr. Brian Kohrt and Ms. Kim Black, Sutherland Yearbook's two new advisors. Finally, I would personally like to thank Mr. Bruce Elling, last year's advisor, for having answers to all my questions and for all the added support that you gave me whenever we met. Without your help, I would have been at a loss.

Thus, another chapter in the history of Sutherland High School has been recorded through photos, text, and a little imagination. Congratulations to the Class of 2000 and to everyone, good luck in the years to come. No matter where your journeys lead you, remember all the memories created here at Sutherland.

Yearbook Dedication

Doctor Laura Humphrey

It comes as no surprise to the senior class that Doctor Laura Humphrey is being honored with this year's dedication. Many students consider her the "most interesting person you'll ever meet." Her life story, which she frequently shares with her classes and students, is truly inspiring.

Though she was born in Youngstown, Ohio, most of Doctor Humphrey's childhood was spent in Ticino, Switzerland. After high school, she graduated with a master of arts from the University of Rochester in 1970, and later received her doctorate from the University of Rochester in 1981. She currently lives in Honeoye Falls with her husband Raymond. Her teaching career began at Brighton High School and since then she has taught at several different high schools and colleges, including Sutherland. Dr. Humphrey has been working at Sutherland since 1978, and teaches AP French, AP Spanish, and Spanish 12 this year.

Today Doc Humphrey, as her students call her, is as much a friend as she is a teacher. She identifies with her students and is sincerely interested in their lives. She always takes the time before class or in the halls to ask how you are. Her students value her because she is the "one teacher who really makes you want to learn." Even after reading this dedication, Doc Humphrey's modesty will still prevent her from the realizing the impact that she has had on so many of us.

Many, many years from now, in places undreamed of today, you will all remember this as a time covered in the warmth of friendship and family.

You will show this book to your grandchildren and they will say, "Was that really you?" And from the voices of those innocents, the memories will come flooding back. Hearts beating together.

Forever...

Kristin,

Hey! Good year in English huh? actually it sucked bic our dumb ass teacher sucked! Im still very Jealous of your rock hard 6-pak stomach! Helte jk. keep in touch this summer & Be good. Toughtebs is my aol screen name. so keep in touch! See ya next year! :) Love,

Vanessa

(The Romper)

Kristin,

This year has been a lot of fun. I wish I could have had more classes with you though... maybe next year! English has been well... interesting. That is really the only way to describe it considering that fact that Mrs. Blanchard is a Bitch! haha Anyways, I'll see you in soccer, and have a great summer

Jenna

Hey girl,

What's up? I'm soo glad school is almost over! Yess! So what are you doing this summer? Hey wanna do the beginning dance class on tuesdays with me? Cause I think Int/Adv might be a little hard. English and Math ~~xxxxx~~ was a blast! We better be in some classes together next year! I am glad we became good friends this year! I hope you have a great summer! Don't worry we'll hang out a lot! Plus we are going to Britney Spears together! Yess! That's gonna be soo fun!

♡ Ashley B

P.S. Practice dance extra hard so we can be on the dance team! And Don't forget to watch GH!

what's up baby? I am going to miss you soo much this summer! You better be calling me to chill → 249-0129! Kick-butt! I love how we cramed for all the Spanish stuff, that was great! Haa, haa we totally can't work w/ each other on any projects → we are so freakin' lazy! OHHH..... the fun ~~xx~~ times we have had! Way too many to count! I ♡ u sooo much! TTYL I ♡ U

Love,

Polina

What's up Kristin? We are almost done with school! This is our last period. We are almost upperclassmen! It's going to be awesome next year! Wow I'm going to do bad on my finals. I at least wanna get a 65% on Global & Bio but I think I'm going to fail something but then I'd only have to retake the test and not the course. I love Chris Farrina! haha No. he's just soo HOT! It's so hot! Uhh! We gotta all hang out this summer. Go tanning! Alright I'm going to let Rachael write now. Luv ya!

Sabrina

Kristin,
Well we've finally moving up! No more little sophomores! Can't wait to play soccer with on varsity (not Blazers) Anyways well I either see you or talk to you soon (tomorrow probably)

Love
Rachael
